

Spectacular Crowds Greet Eisenhower On Michigan Tour

By WEB MCKINLEY
DETROIT (AP)—Mid-Michigan echoed today to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's "crusade", which he carried yesterday on a 400-mile campaign to the state's industrial heartland.

The Republican presidential candidate spoke to more than 100,000 cheering persons Wednesday during his eight-stop tour of the state.

Party Chiefs Jubilant

And Michigan Republican leaders described the results in terms of unrestrained enthusiasm.

Some of the most modest comments applied such terms as "wonderful" to the crowds that turned out to see Ike and Mamie at Bay City, Saginaw, Lapeer, Flint, Lansing, Jackson, Grand Rapids and Kalamazoo.

Fixed M. Alger, the party's candidate for governor, said as the 18-car train was nearing the end of its haul through the state: "This has been just wonderful. I've never seen anything like it in my life."

Owen J. Pat Cleary, the party's state chairman and candidate for secretary of state called the turn-outs "magnificent."

Cleary said the tour was aimed at reaching the center of out-state Michigan's commercial and rural population. Although the general spoke in only eight of the state's 83 counties, Cleary said delegations from 48 lower peninsula counties were on hand at the various stops.

Personality Has Pull

In the eight counties covered by the stops was a population of 1,121,564 by the 1950 census. Four years ago these same counties gave Thomas E. Dewey a margin

Mediators Try To End Chicago Elevator Strike

CHICAGO (AP)—Federal mediators moved today in an attempt to end an elevator operators' strike which has crippled business operations in more than 100 office buildings in Chicago's downtown district.

The strike, stemming from a dispute over wages and hours, affected an estimated half million daily users of the 120 struck buildings. Thousands of office workers in the loop skyscrapers were made idle as many firms closed when the strike started yesterday.

Working schedules in the city's largest buildings were snarled. Hotels, department stores, hospitals and public buildings were not affected by the walkout of 1,350 AFL operators and starters.

The Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service summoned union and management representatives to a meeting to renew negotiations.

The union struck in support of demands for a cut in the work week from 48 to 40 hours and an unspecified increase in pay. Under the old contract which ended yesterday, the weekly wage rate was $76.96 for operators and $83.46 for starters.

Tunnel Wanted For White Pine

LANSING (AP)—White Pine, the revived copper mining town in the Upper Peninsula, has asked the Conservation Commission for permission to build a water-supply tunnel out into Lake Superior.

The commission will consider the request at its Oct. 9 and 10 meeting at Higgins Lake.

A hearing will be held Oct. 9 at 2 p. m. on the controversial transfer of walleyed pike over the Newyago dam. Those opposing the transfers have started a court case seeking to halt them.

The commission will consider purchase of 825 acres of land to add to nine lower peninsula game areas. Fishing regulations for 1953 and wildlife sanctuary approvals are also on the agenda.

Venezuela Puts Down Rebellion

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Venezuela's government says it has crushed the latest in a series of recent uprisings after a 2½-hour fight in which three rebels—including the leader—were killed and 13 wounded.

Rebels, led by a group of Army officers, seized temporary control of police headquarters at Maturin in Eastern Venezuela at dawn yesterday but were ousted by loyal troops soon afterward, a general staff communique said. Maturin is the capital of Monagas State.

The latest skirmish raised to 13 the number of persons killed since Monday, when three unsuccessful attempts were put down in Portuguesa State.

Connected Red Will Run For Congress

BALTIMORE (AP)—George A. Meyers, Communist party chairman in Maryland and Washington, has filed as a write-in candidate for U. S. senator.

Meyers, who is free on bond pending an appeal verdict on his conviction for conspiracy to advocate or teach violent overthrow of the government, said his campaign manager would be Mrs. Dorothy Rose Blumberg, Baltimore Communist. She also is appealing a Smith Act conviction.

Taft Says G. O. P. Can Win With Hard Work

By RICHARD E. SMITH
CLEVELAND (AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft will tell Republicans in Ohio's three biggest cities this week the GOP can win the Nov. 4 election, but only by hard work.

Last night he told a Young GOP rally here the party "can't afford the overconfidence of 1948."

The coming election is "the final decision," he said, "whether we are going to go ahead on the principles of the last 165 years or go so far toward socialization and government control that we can't turn back."

People Interested

The people realize the importance of this election, Taft said, and "are more interested in politics than they ever have been in the past."

The senator said record voter registrations show "a determination on the part of our people to rise up and eliminate from our government the socialization the people resent from the bottom of their hearts."

But, Taft added, GOP party workers can profit from this interest only by hard labor and a determined election day effort to see that their registered voters go to the polls.

Ohio Pivotal State

Taft viewed Ohio as a pivotal state in a close presidential contest. He said a majority in the great state of Ohio may be the final determining factor in the election of a Republican president.

"We can win the election," he said. "Reports are encouraging. People are interested. Conservative estimates are that 3½ million will vote in Ohio—the largest vote in history."

Bidding for that vote on behalf of the Republican ticket which six months ago he was fighting to head, Taft speaks in Columbus to-night at a county GOP campaign opener and again tomorrow night. Monday he appears at his home city of Cincinnati.

'I Like Ike -- But' Is Truman Theme

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
ABOARD TRUMAN TRAIN (AP)—President Truman played his own version of "I like Ike" along the West Coast today in a homely, almost earthy rhythm that constant repetition made a campaign chant.

The lyrics were a bit different from those of the Eisenhower enthusiasts, the parody being built not so much on "I like Ike" as on "I like Ike, but—"

Encouraged by the laughter of the whistle-stop crowds in North Dakota, Montana and Idaho, he pursued his course in Washington, where he tried out his anti-Eisenhower technique in a major talk at Spokane last night.

Spreads On Sarcasm

There, he told a crowd in the National Guard Armory he was "sorry to see the subject surrender" to the Republican presidential nominee "to the reactionary, vindictive wing of the Old Guard."

Part of his Spokane speech was delayed by yells, whistles and cries of "give 'em hell, Harry" and "pour it on." Police Chief Clyde Phelps estimated his audience there at 4,000 in the armory and said there were 1,500 others who couldn't get in.

The President brought a roar of laughter when he departed from his prepared text to give his comment on statements by Eisenhower and other Republicans that taxes can be reduced by slashing government expenditures for national defense purposes.

"It's just a damn lie," he declared.

Of the suggestion made by some of a fixed limit on spending for defense, he said, with acid in his voice: "That's the craziest thing I ever heard of."

Los Angeles Red Hunt Continues

LOS ANGELES (AP)—After hearing 21 Los Angeles area lawyers refuse his request for information about communism, the House Un-American Activities Committee turns its spotlight on other professions today.

The committee is investigating subversive influences in the professions, including doctors and film, television and radio employees.

All the attorneys challenged the committee's right to subpoena them or to question their personal beliefs. Twenty refused to answer questions concerning Communist party membership. In the case of one, the issue of membership was withdrawn.

All cited the First and Fifth Constitutional amendments, and some the Fourth, Ninth and 10th Amendments.

One witness, Atty. Jack Frankel, said the committee had intimidated city, state and federal employees and even had harmed the movie business.

"There hasn't been a decent motion picture made since this committee started to function," he charged. "They don't dare express a decent idea—they don't express any ideas. In this effect the committee has perpetrated the lie that 'movies are better than ever.'"

Long Friendship Of General And President Wilts

By DON WHITEHEAD
ABOARD EISENHOWER Special (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's presidential drive surged into Illinois today with reports that his temper is being fanned to hot resentment under the bitter criticisms turned against him by President Truman.

The long-time friendship between the two appeared to be at a breaking point as they exchanged long-range verbal blows obviously aimed at each other's prestige.

Scandal-A-Day

Truman has termed the five-star general—once reported to be his choice for the Democratic presidential nomination—a "front man" for lobbyists. And he has accused Eisenhower of misleading the American people about the peril of communism after World War II.

In turn, Eisenhower has called Truman's administration a corrupt, extravagant, bumbling leadership weak in morals and in the pursuit of peace. He called it a "scandal-a-day" administration.

An Eisenhower aide said the general was ready to attack the Truman administration all through his whistle-stop push into Illinois—assailing what he has called a false wartime prosperity. He has insisted Republican leadership can bring prosperity without war.

Heads For Wisconsin

President Calls For Liberalism

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman, in a nation-wide radio broadcast, pictured the Nov. election as a choice between the "liberal program" of the Democrats and the "pullback program" of the Republicans.

The 15-minute program over ABC last night had been recorded by Truman at the White House before he embarked on his whistle-stop tour.

The broadcast was the first of five, featuring top names of the Democratic party and show business, being sponsored weekly by the International Ladies Garment Workers Union.

"The way we mark our ballots in November," the President said, "will determine, in large measure, whether we have good times or bad times, whether we have good wages or poor wages, whether we have runaway prices or stable prices, whether we have a strong national defense or a weak national defense, whether our children will have opportunities to get ahead or whether they will face the kind of economic collapse and confusion that we ourselves faced in the early 1930s."

Truman said Republicans would consider a GOP victory next month as "a blank check to tear down the things that have been built up in spite of their opposition in the last 20 years."

He said Republicans had started a tearing-down program in the 80th Congress, which they controlled.

"But I was in the White House and I was able to hold them back," Truman said. "If a Republican president were in the White House, the people would have no defense against them."

Williams Challenges Alger To Tell How He Will Slash Expenses

(By The Associated Press)
Gov. G. Mennen Williams challenged GOP gubernatorial candidate Fred M. Alger Jr. to "tell the voters exactly where and how you propose to reduce state services by $40,000,000, or 25 per cent."

In a noon address at Saginaw, Williams said many people are asking where Alger intends to cut to make good on his promise to balance the state's budget without new taxes.

Newspapers Organized

"Come on, Freddie," the governor taunted his opponent. "Quit trying to kid the customers. They can add and subtract just like you can. Tell them what your program is."

"Tell them now—while there is still time for it to be discussed and considered by the voters. Tell the truth about your plans and let them be judged at the polls in the American and Democratic way."

In a radio speech at Grand Rapids last night, Williams chided Republicans for formation of a GOP Editorial Council of Michigan Newspaper Editors and Publishers.

Said the governor: "It is probable that we shall have to depend on personal discussion to make the issues of this election campaign clear."

But he added: "I find it difficult to believe that the entire press of this state—and particularly the newspapers of this area—would be a knowing party to such a partisan conspiracy."

Millions Wasted By VA, Republican Leader Declares

By WARREN ROGERS JR.
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Veterans Administration, which plans to lay off 2,250 hospital employees in an economy move, was accused by a Republican campaign leader today of squandering its GI education funds.

The V. A. announced yesterday that, by Nov. 4, it will discharge 2,250 workers in the administrative, special services, custodial and maintenance ranks at its 92 hospitals and two domiciliary facilities.

Snarl Gets Worse

The announcement said the personnel reduction is "a step designed to help bring the agency within funds appropriated." The V. A.'s budget request for medical activities during the year which started July 1 was reduced by congress from $701,442,318 to $670,318,634.

Frank C. Hilton, Veterans Division chairman of the Republican National Committee, contended in a statement today: "Unless there is a change in the national administration, veterans affairs handled by the Veterans Administration will continue to grow worse."

Hilton said both Democrats and Republicans are uncovering instances in which the V. A. is "snarling veterans benefits and wasting uncounted millions of dollars."

With educational benefits now extended to Korea veterans, Hilton said, "there are further opportunities to repeat the known over-payment of approximately 100 million dollars for training."

From 1944 to 1950, Hilton said, 34 per cent of cases investigated showed "maladministration, negligence, gift-acceptance, or outright criminal activity by V. A. personnel."

"The Veterans Administration allowed the waste of tens of millions of dollars for supplies," he said. "Additional tens of millions were wasted on worthless training courses."

Hilton said Korea veterans would be assured of "the square deal to which they are entitled" if Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the GOP candidate for president, is elected.

Liberal Party Wins In Japan

TOKYO (AP)—Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida and his Liberal party won an absolute majority in Japan's House of Representatives, virtually assuring a continuation of this country's pro-American policies.

Voters turned their backs on the Communists, refusing to return a single Red to office in yesterday's election. In the old Diet Parliament the Communists had 22 seats.

With only three of the 466 seats still to be decided, the lineup was Liberals 237, Progressive 84, right-wing Socialists 57, left-wing Socialists 54, independents 19, minor parties 12, Communists 0.

The Liberal party victory was dimmed by the loss of nearly 50 of the 285 seats they controlled in the last Diet.

Fireside Chats Scheduled For Gov. Stevenson

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson, with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower raising his home campaign base, began today a complete overhaul of radio-television speaking plans so as to work in at least four more "fireside chats."

Lunch Turned Down

The Democratic presidential nominee went on about political and official business as Republican rival Eisenhower whistled toward town for an early afternoon rally and speech.

Stevenson didn't plan to go down to Court House Square to case the opposition campaign. But he did let state employees have an extra hour off at lunch time so any who wanted to could attend the rally. Eisenhower had politely turned down Stevenson's polite invitation to lunch at the Illinois Executive Mansion.

Stevenson and his aides were busy with what porter McKeever, publicity director for Volunteers for Stevenson, said was a major reformation of the whole radio-TV program for the last month of the campaign.

There will be at least four more fireside chats during the campaign, McKeever said.

No Rabble Rousing

At least one, and perhaps two speeches on the issue of communism at home and abroad, he said, will be in the form of chats. The governor, McKeever said, wants to sit down and discuss the issues with the people, quietly, dispassionately and without any rabble rousing.

That was the word the publicity director was passing among Stevenson volunteers. Leaders of the volunteers from some 30 states were closing out today a rally of their own aimed largely at swinging the independent vote behind the Stevenson banner.

Members of the Stevenson high command said the increasing emphasis on straight-to-the-people television and radio talks is a direct outgrowth of the response to Stevenson's first "fireside chat" from Chicago Monday night.

American Press Truman Target

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—President Truman cut loose again last night at one of his favorite targets—the American press—but one of the newspapers singled out particularly replied it was complimented.

The Spokesman-Review, which Truman said last night and also in 1948 was the second worst paper in the country, commented editorially:

"It is reasonable to assume that millions of Americans who hold views on the Truman administration generally similar to those of the Spokesman-Review will regard it as a compliment to stop here, the President rated the Chicago Tribune and the Review in that order as the nation's poorest. Both are staunch Republican papers."

The Tribune had no comment immediately on Truman's latest barb.

The President told a capacity audience last night in the Spokane Armory the populace could never guess by reading the papers that his administration has cut the public debt and in the past year had a budget surplus of nearly four billion dollars.

Departing from his prepared text, he said this was true particularly of subscribers to the Spokesman-Review which he said "never told the truth in politics in its life and wouldn't know the truth if it met it coming down the road."

Will Discipline Two Policemen

Disciplinary action will be taken against two Escanaba police officers for reckless use of their 38 caliber police pistols in the city, Safety Director Glen Leonard announced today.

The officers to be disciplined are Lawrence Formenti and James Tweedy, who fired shots from their pistols at 3 a. m. Sept. 29 at a small animal near the Escanaba Conservation District headquarters building.

One of the bullets broke a window in the kitchen of the home of Mrs. Gust Williams, 1119 Washington Ave., and embedded itself in the opposite wall, the safety director reported.

Mrs. Williams was awakened by the sound of breaking glass and saw a car back away, without recognizing it as the police patrol car. She reported the shooting to police.

Safety Director Leonard said that his investigation disclosed that Officers Formenti and Tweedy had each fired about two shots from their pistols, and in questioning them they said they knew that one of the shots ricocheted and struck the Williams home.

Reckless use of firearms is an offense which is a misdemeanor, and "such use by an officer is contrary to department rules and policies, even when it is necessary to shoot nuisance animals," Leonard said.

The nature of the disciplinary action against the two officers is expected to be announced tomorrow.

U. of M. Training For Specialists In Near East Started

ANN ARBOR—An extensive program for the training of specialists on the Near East is under way at the University of Michigan, President Harlan Hatcher announced today.

With the assistance of a $100,000 grant from the Ford Foundation, an expanded study program on the critical Near East area is being offered undergraduate and graduate students. The grant was made as part of the program of the Foundation's Division of Overseas Activities which is seeking to strengthen democratic economies in areas of tension.

"The U. S. urgently needs more detailed and intimate understanding of the people of the Near East, of their culture, their present problems and of their aspirations," President Hatcher pointed out.

Michigan's program, the most extensive in this country, is designed to help meet that need, he added. The history, religions, cultures, as well as social economic and political structure of the area—past and present—will be emphasized in the courses.

Prof. George G. Cameron, chairman of the Department of Near Eastern Studies, will direct the program. The area covered includes North Africa, the Arab countries, Israel, Turkey and Iran.

The program has been developing on the Michigan campus since 1950. Summer institutes on the Near East were conducted this year and in 1950. In 1951 Professor Cameron directed an expedition to Iran and Iraq of Michigan faculty members and graduate students.

Three objectives of the plan as outlined by Professor Cameron are: to bring before as wide a circle as possible the significance of the Near East; encourage a realization that the United States has a vital interest in present and future developments in this area, and assist in development of a corps of Near Eastern specialists.

Students will take Near Eastern courses in addition to work in their major field such as history, sociology and geography. At the graduate level, emphasis in their major field will be directed toward Near Eastern subjects (Near Eastern history, etc.). Trips to countries in the area for a year's study will be part of the graduate work.

Snow Removal Cost Reduced

Better snow removal at lower cost—that is the program for the coming winter in Escanaba based on last winter's experience.

Loren Jenkins, Escanaba city engineer, today reported comparative figures for the past two winters to reveal that more snow was handled last winter in the city at less cost than the winter before.

The U. S. Weather Bureau at Escanaba recorded 65.9 inches of snowfall last winter compared to 57.2 inches the winter of 1950-51. More snow meant an increase in snow to be removed and hauled from the city's main streets. Last winter 25,300 yards of snow were removed compared to 19,078 yards the winter before.

Yet because of reorganization of the work the result was revealed in greater efficiency and a reduction in cost from $17,403 in 1950-51 to $14,995 in 1951-52, Jenkins reported.

This cost reduction of approximately $2,600 was accomplished despite an increase in the amount of snow removed, a rise in labor costs of approximately 10 percent, the inclusion of sidewalk plowing, and the use of a power grader with a wing attachment that widened the plowed section of the street for wheel traffic.

Reorganization of the plowing and hauling work speeded the task and caused less traffic congestion on main streets, Jenkins pointed out.

Represented in the total expenditure of $14,995 last year was snow removal, sidewalk plowing and sanding for ice control to reduce skidding hazards.

Reduction In Cost Of County Government In 1951 Shown In Audit

The cost of running Delta county, on the increase for four previous years, dropped slightly in 1951 to the point where carrying on county functions cost $20.56 per resident.

Delta county spent a total of $676,598.99 in routine functioning from Jan. 1, 1951 to Dec. 31, 1951 and took in through normal revenues and state aids a sum of $754,012.40.

These figures were revealed in the state auditor general's report recently released after an examination of county books this summer.

In 1950 the per capita cost was $23.71 and in 1949, $21.38.

Currently more than 35 percent of the cost of county government is financed with state aid. Consequently, county disbursements were not made entirely with money collected in the county.

Biggest Portion To Welfare

Much of the money disbursed to county departments and spent on county functions was earmarked by the state for the particular transaction. The total disbursement made by county was $2,424,837.30.

Welfare and medical assistance continued to take the greatest portion of county funds. More than half of the per capita cost of $20.56 went to this category. The total disbursed to the two component agencies of this category, the county welfare board and the Delta-Menominee Health District, was $342,878.74—representing a $10.42 per capita cost.

The Delta appropriations to the welfare board totaled $72,300 in three payments—$27,000 for direct relief, $7,300 in a special appropriation for remodeling the Delta Convalescent Home, and $38,000 for the general relief fund.

Direct relief administered by the welfare board includes assistance given needy applicants in the form of subsistence, rent, medical care, clothing, etc. For this work the board received, in addition to the county appropriation, aid from the state in the sum of $126,700 and miscellaneous refunds of $8,922.55.

35 Per Cent Of Relief
By state action the county last year had to pay at least 25 percent of the county relief costs. This year the portion was raised to 30 percent, which will boost next year's appropriation to $41,000.

Delta county's contribution of $38,000 for the general relief fund helped to pay the welfare board's administrative expenses, clients' hospitalization costs, etc.

The $11,068 appropriated by the county to the county health unit, together with the state and federal aid and Menominee county appropriation, went into salaries, travel and scientific supplies for the health office.

Altogether, the county's contribution to welfare and medical assistance given in the county was approximately $83,368.

In a further breakdown of the per capita cost of county government, the auditor's report shows that highway maintenance and construction cost $7.38 per resident and administrative and operating expense came to a per capita cost of $2.76.

$192,432 From Taxes
Both figures are higher than last year's in the corresponding departments.

Money collected last year in the 1951 tax levy totaled $192,432.08. The tax assessment was $216,611.64, of which $24,179.56 was counted delinquent.

Commenting on county officers' salaries, the auditors pointed out that the salaries of the county clerk and treasurer were not in accordance with the opinion of the prosecuting attorney who approved an annual salary for the offices at $3,000.

In 1951 the clerk was paid $3,077 and the treasurer received $3,057.20.

The examining auditors recommended that "the board of supervisors consider the adoption of a new resolution to clarify their exact intentions in regard to the 1951 and 1952 salaries of all county officers."

County treasurer Ann S. Villeneuve explained last week that the discrepancies between the actual salary receipts and the statutory salary figure was due in one case to concurrent weeks of employment of the past treasurer and the incoming officer for which both were paid, and in the other case, to payment of wages for unused vacation time.

Assets At $152,129.52
The auditors noted several instances in which county officials and various department employees received payment for travel expenses without submitting an itemized bill supported by invoices and receipts.

They recommended consequently that "no travel allowances be paid unless they are properly itemized and supported by receipts, etc."

A change in fee transaction in the probate judge's office was advised by the examiners.

"The state's portion" they state, "of the fee for delayed registration of birth, which is turned over to the county clerk who receipts for the same and credits it to the 'County Clerk's Fund', should be receipted for by the judge of probate in the regular manner with the county treasurer."

According to the report, the recognized assets of the county stand at $152,129.52, which is $12,543.02 more than the 1950 figure.

US-2 Paving Is Before Council

Escanaba City Council in its meeting scheduled for 8 tonight will have before it a proposed resolution from the State Highway Department calling for the city's participation in the cost of improving US-2, US-41 and M-35 north, west and south of Ludington Street.

A forty-six foot roadway, bituminous surfacing, and curbs is proposed. It would extend from Ludington-23rd Street intersection 970 feet north, 1700 feet west, and 1530 feet south.

Other business to come before the Council includes the following: Hearing of objections to assessments for water main construction on North 20th Street between Ninth and Eleventh Avenues North.

Second reading and passage of amendment to the appropriation ordinance.

Consideration of a request by the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce and several sportsmen's clubs for use, on a temporary basis, of a piece of city-owned land for rifle adjustment range during the pre-deer hunting season.

Consideration of a Civil Service Commission recommendation for salary increases to city employees.

Four EHS Students Play In Sociodrama For MEA Conference

Four students of Escanaba Senior High School will present a one-act play, under direction of John Holstad, at the Michigan Education conference in Marquette Friday morning.

Betty Leiper and Gary Grenholm, seniors, play the roles of mother and father in the sociodrama, released by the Michigan department of mental health. The roles of two high school girls are played by Mary Larson, a senior, and Ann Kranitz, a junior.

The presentation in Marquette, scheduled for 9 a. m., before the vocational guidance section, is the third made by the east of four. Last spring the students presented the play at a mental health workshop at Blaney Park, and last week it was presented at a PTA meeting in Rock.

The play, "High Pressure Area," by Nora Stirling, deals with teenage dating and the liquor problem. Audience discussion of the play's basic ideas follows the presentation.

The players, members of the Drama and Thespians club at EHS, also will present the sociodrama at a Powers PTA meeting, Oct. 14.

Mrs. Evelyn R. Collins, of Powers, director of special education at Pinecrest Sanatorium, is chairman of the MEA vocational guidance section. Jean Pearson, assistant professor of sociology at Northern Michigan College of Education, Marquette, will lead the discussion following presentation of the sociodrama.

Russia Has Million Air Force Reserves; U. S. Has 300,000

By HENRY HENRY
WASHINGTON (AP)—Russia has about a million Air Force reservists it could call upon in case of a war. The United States has 300,000.

This was announced today by the U. S. Air Force in the Air Reserveist, official Air Force monthly magazine. The Air Force said the article is the first known attempt at rounding up Russia's Air Force Reserve strength and program.

Holes In Picture
The article left many holes in the complete picture because, the Air Force said, it was impossible to get all the information needed. But it does indicate what the U. S. might be up against in case of a war with Russia.

The million-man reserve organization would supplement the regular Russian Air Force in case of war. How many aircraft these reserves would put in the sky the Air Force couldn't say.

The Russians said in March, 1951, they had 18,000 combat planes with a big enough regular Air Force to fly them. The total manpower of the regular Air Force is not publicly known.

Aero Clubs Trained
The backbone of the Red Air Force Reserve is the "Aero Clubs." They're staffed by professional flying and training instructors, the Air Force said, adding:

"In 1937, the Soviet leaders gave the Aero Clubs the mission of training 150,000 pilots. Just what percentage of this goal was reached is not known, but when World War II started the clubs had created a vast reserve of semi-trained pilots and technicians upon which the Soviet Air Force was able to draw during the early part of the conflict."

Requirements Stiff
The training for these reservists is tough and to get a top pilot rating in the clubs takes at least 2,500 hours of flying. They must "have flown at least 10 types of aircraft, carried out several night and instrument cross country flights and have at least six years' sport flying to their credit."

The reservists take part each year in the Air Force Day program in Moscow. From actual observations, the Air Force said the standard of their flying is high. It pointed out, however, that only the best pilots would be used in such a show.

The manpower for the reserve organization comes from a constant stream of regular Air Force personnel going off active duty.

Machinists Are Highest Paid

Machinists drew the highest average hourly earnings in Upper Michigan during the summer months, the September report of the Michigan Employment Security Commission reveals.

Average hourly earnings of these workers, which does not include electrical machinists, was $1.70 in July and $1.69 in June.

The average hourly earnings for all U. P. Manufacturing workers was $1.40 and the average weekly earnings was $59.60. These figures reflect July employment, and are slightly higher than similar figures in June.

Includes Vacation Pay

The lowest average hourly earnings in the U. P. were earned by persons employed in food and kindred industries. Their average hourly pay was $1.29 and average weekly earnings, in July, $54.22.

Average weekly earnings for the various manufacturing employment groups for July, the September MESC report indicates, are as follows:

Food and kindred products, $54.22; lumber and wood products, $54.70, excluding furniture; paper and allied products, $67.63; printing, publishing and allied industries, $53.40; Chemicals and allied products, $68.85; machinists, except electrical, $87.48.

The report, published in cooperation with the U. S. Bureau of Labor statistics, computes average hourly earnings on the basis of total amount paid to production workers and total number of such workers. The average weekly earnings are computed similarly, and includes amounts paid for sick leave, holidays and vacations.

Only 4.8% Jobless

Employment in Upper Michigan reached its highest level this year during August. The MESC report indicates that the resumption of operations at iron mines and limestone quarries, coupled with seasonal expansion in other industries, brought the employment level to 76,600 workers.

However, marketing difficulties in major manufacturing industries and other factors kept U. P. 4,000 below the figure for a year ago.

Between July 15 and mid-August, about 9,000 workers returned to former jobs or filled new openings in U. P. industries. Major gains were registered at food processing plants and in the lumber industry, and manufacturing employment continued upward during that period.

The largest reduction in employment took place in the transportation equipment industry, when about 200 workers were laid following completion of contracts, the MESC reports. Smaller losses were registered in wholesale trade, government work and the paper industry.

By mid-August, approximately 8 per cent of the U. P. total labor force of 102,200 was jobless, compared with 6.5 per cent in July and a 1952 high of 12.3 per cent in April.

Increase In Federal Employment Is Factor In U. S. Debt, Inflation

CIVILIAN federal employment in the United States increased 516,000 in the period from 1948 to Jan. 1, 1952, or 28.2%. And in Michigan, federal employment jumped during the same period 10,900, or 31.5%.

This trend in federal employment should be of great concern to the American people because it is one factor in the ever-mounting federal debt and a factor in inflation. Every addition to payroll is an added burden to the taxpayer. It takes the taxes paid by two families earning $10,500 a year to put a employee on the government payroll. And, of course, it requires the taxes paid by a proportionately large number of families earning less than $10,500 to put a new employee on the government payroll.

The average number of federal employees, civilian employees, this is, in 1948 was 1,827,100. By January 1 of this year there were 2,343,100 employees drawing regular payroll checks from Uncle Sam. And these figures do not include fourth class postmasters nor substitute rural mail carriers.

Not a single state in the union showed a decrease in its number of federal civilian employees during those four years. The largest increase in terms of numbers was in California, which added 59,200 employees. Five states showed percentage increases of greater than 50%—Georgia, Kentucky, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Utah.

These are frightening figures because they express the tentacles of bureaucracy that are embracing the American people. More than 1,000 persons were added to the federal payroll each working day during last June.

How long can this trend continue and still retain a solvent America?

Gals Have Men Licked, Census Shows

WE might as well face it now, men. We've fought a good fight but it's been apparent to many of us for some time that our fight was a losing one. Thing to do now is to face up to the facts and admit it, while there's still a chance of arranging a peace on some kind of honorable terms.

The cold facts, right out of the Census Bureau, are these, simply these: we're outnumbered. Have been since 1950. And we're getting more outnumbered all the time.

Beginning two years ago, the Census Bureau reports, American women for the first time outnumbered the men. At that time their forces numbered 1,430,000 more than ours.

For one thing the women have been slipping in recruits from other places. How they managed to swipe an idea like that from us, is a mystery. Because for years and years we were the ones who were slipping in most of the recruits.

But along about 1930 there was a big SNAFU somewhere along the line and the women began getting the edge on us. By 1938 there were only two-thirds as many male immigrants coming into the country as there were female.

If that was all, it wouldn't be so bad. But it's not all. The fact is a lot of our guys went over the hill. Deserted. They just threw down their stuff and ran like dogs, and somebody ought to have to answer for that.

During the 1930's, when the going was tough, about twice as many men were going out of the country as women. Then somebody apparently got on the ball, and cut down on some of our AWOLs.

But even as late as 1950 a lot of our guys were still taking off. In the five years ending then, 13,000 more men than women left the country.

But the women sure have been missing one good bet all along. And it's sort of hard to figure. Here they are, the ones who have the children, so you'd think naturally they'd have more girls than boys. But it's just the other way around. Regular as rain, every year for a long time, there have been 1055 boy babies born for every 1000 girl babies. There must be some kind of a trick there somewhere. That's just not like a woman.

On the other hand, men don't seem to be able to stand up under the strain of the battle as well as women. Instead of putting their minds on the fight all the time, they worry a lot about business and get heart trouble. They also get too fat, but on the rations you get these days, it's pretty hard to see how.

Anyway women seem to live longer, and so it looks like when you take all these things into consideration the best thing for us to do is just give up now. No use trying to be a bunch of heroes. What does it get you, anyhow?

It must discourage realtors when they discover that an auto salesman has beaten them to the prospect.

Direct reports from the golf courses say that a lot of folks who think they are golfers are merely cut-ups.

One of the big reasons for being overweight is that a man's weak side is his inside.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—After General Eisenhower spent two days at a New York film studio recording radio and TV "spots" for the wind-up of his campaign, the Republican high command is at odds regarding their use. More specifically, they are at odds on how to raise the money to buy the radio and TV time for their use.

The subject came up at a meeting of top GOP money-raisers in New York recently, at which Lloyd Dalzell, dynamic, young tugboat operator, offered to raise $600,000 to $800,000.

"I will raise the money, but only to be used for the General's spot announcements," he said.

However, others were skeptical: not over Dalzell's ability to raise money, but over the same issue which has caused friction inside the Republican party in the past—local leadership vs. national leadership.

Winthrop Aldrich, head of the Chase National Bank and brother-in-law of John D. Rockefeller, was afraid that Dalzell's money-raising would conflict with local money raising. He feared he would tap the same moneyed people that local leaders will have to tap. Others agreed. Even if the national ticket should lose, they argued, Republican organizations must be kept strong locally and local tickets must be elected.

FOR KEY STATES

Jack Whitney, who once served in the Roosevelt administration and married Jimmie Roosevelt's ex-wife, took the opposite view. He felt nothing was more important than raising money for the spot radio and TV time.

These consist of radio recordings and TV kinescopes in which Eisenhower answers current political questions. They are to be used in the last three weeks of the campaign to "saturate" key states in the East and Midwest, which Truman carried in 1948 by only a narrow margin.

This idea was evolved by Rosser Reeves, ace advertising specialist for the Ted Bates Agency. Cooperating with him was Mike Levin of the Erwin-Wasey Agency. Later Fred Rudge of Fisher, Rudge & Nebbett came in.

Note—Presiding over the finance meeting was Sidney Weinberg, head of the Giant banking house of Goldman-Sachs. Born in Russia, brought up in Brooklyn, Weinberg is a director of more corporations than he can recite himself, got to know Gen. Lucius Clay during World War II days in Washington, later got Clay his job with Continental Can. It was through Clay that Weinberg got on the Eisenhower bandwagon.

NIXON'S PRESS

Dynamic Dick, the GOP vice-presidential hopeful, can certainly rub newspaper editors and publishers the wrong way. Holding a press conference with the top editors at Oklahoma City last week, Nixon declined to answer questions, gave editors the brush-off.

Commented Wheeler Mayo, publisher of the Salt Lake Times and Claremore Daily Progress:

"Never in my 20 years of owning and operating newspapers and as past president of the Oklahoma Press Association have I witnessed the snubbing that Nixon gave the press."

"Oklahoma editors were called by special invitation for the specific purpose of attending a question-and-answer conference. It was a fiasco."

"Editors found that they had been called to a stacked meeting to witness and be impressed by a 15-minute glamour-boy show in which Nixon acted three parts—his own moderator, interrogator and the answerer of his own questions."

"His refusal to answer questions, in contrast with Sparkman's give-and-take of the day before, made Nixon look silly."

Note—The point most newsmen and the public want Nixon to explain is how he paid $20,000 down on his Washington house, while also buying a house in California, after his wife wrote in the Saturday Evening Post that they sometimes didn't have enough money to buy postage.

PROTESTANTS SUPPRESSED

Following the lead of Spain and Colombia, Peron's dictatorship in Argentina has now started cracking down on freedom of worship. It is doing this by revoking the preaching permits of Protestant pastors on trumped-up political charges.

Rev. Julio N. Sabanes, Uruguayan minister of the Central Methodist Church in Buenos Aires, and Rev. Angel Sainz, an Argentine pastor of the United Protestant Church at the fashionable seaside resort of Mar Del Plata, were both notified by the Peron government a few days ago that they would no longer be permitted to conduct services.

Significantly, the charge sounded like the pretenses of Communist regimes to eliminate independent religions.

The two Protestant pastors were formally accused by the Argentine Ministry of Foreign Relations and Worship with having denounced the high cost of living.

"What a Mess You Turned Out to Be!"

Ike And Adlai Only Two Among 13 Candidates For President

By RICHARD KLEINER

NEW YORK —(NEA)—The election isn't as simple as some people seem to think. All this talk about either Stevenson or Eisenhower becoming President is just wishful thinking by the Democrats and Republicans. Ike and Adlai are but two among many candidates.

The next time somebody says, "I like Ike," or "I'm mad about Adlai," remember there are others who are saying, "I'm gamblin' on Hamblen," or "Darlington is a doll," or "I'm crazy about Krajewski."

Many old parties, and some new ones, are in the field this campaign year. All have a legal candidate, with a legal, if improbable, chance at the White House. Here are some of the minor party candidates who will be on some of the ballots come Nov. 4:

The Poor Man's Party is running a pig farmer from Secaucus, N. J., named Harry Krajewski. Henry has nine children and 4000 pigs. The Poor Man's Party is brand new, and stands for such propositions as free milk for school children and lower taxes.

The Greenback Party, which once elected 14 congressmen, is a direct descendant of the party of the same name founded in 1874. Its big year was in 1878, but lately it has polled very few votes—six in '48.

Fred Proehl, a Seattle grocer, is running on the same old Greenback platform—when the country needs money for anything, print it. Proehl used to run a bank in Minnesota, and has been advocating the Greenback theories for some 30 years.

The Socialist Party, for the first time in 28 years, is running somebody besides Norman Thomas. That gentleman has finally decided he can't make it. In his place on the Socialist ticket will be a Reading, Pa., lawyer named Darlington Hoopes, whose political experience is limited to three terms in the Pennsylvania legislature.

The Socialist Workers Party, a left-wing group following the teachings of the assassinated Leon Trotsky, is still in the field. Their candidate is Farrell Dobbs, who didn't quite get elected in '48. Among his qualifications for the job is the fact that he spent a stretch in jail for sedition during World War II.

The Vegetarian Party is in the race again, running a retired brigadier general named Herbert Holdridge, who suddenly acquired the vegetarian philosophy six years ago. He's a violent pacifist (if you can be violently pacifistic) and, if elected, would do his best to outlaw wars and roast beef.

The Prohibition Party has some very serious things on its platform, in addition to the expected anti-alcohol plank. It has come out in favor of the Constitution and economy in government.

Campaigning on this platform is a reformed alcoholic named Stuart Hamblen, who sings cowboy songs when he isn't running for President. If you like quantity with your candidates, Hamblen is your man—he's probably the biggest aspirant in the race, standing 6'2" and weighing 215.

The Socialist Labor Party is another left-wing party, and HOOPES: Battling for Thomas.

DuMont of New London, Conn., who calls himself the Republican Party.

So don't let anyone bamboozle you into thinking that this race is strictly between Stevenson and Eisenhower; it's wide open.

So They Say

I had no idea I was so popular and I hope I can bear this multiple courtship and captivity with becoming modesty.—Illinois Gov. Adlai Stevenson.

Politicians can take away by politics what labor gains by economics.—Labor leader David Dubinsky, president of the International Ladies' Garment Workers Union.

Any philosophy I have, you could say, I received from my beloved mother and my father, who was the wisest man I knew.—Elder statesman Bernard Baruch.

They (the administration) try to scare hell out of the farmers by warning of low prices, and to scare hell out of the consumers on high prices, all in the same breath.—Sen. George Aiken (R., Vt.).

Let's keep the trend going and in November Stevenson will find that the kiss of Harry Truman is the kiss of (political) death.—Douglas McKay, South Carolina GOP leader.

There is a limit to what the housewife can take and she has reached that limit.—Mrs. Ivy Priest, assistant to the National GOP chairman, commenting on high prices.

Too often, sinister threats to the Bill of Rights and to freedom of the mind are concealed under the patriotic cloak of anti-communism.—Illinois Gov. Adlai Stevenson.

It won't do any good to win against aggression if we go broke.—Sen. Edward Martin (R., Pa.).

One man and a party that have not had a part in errors and the bungling of the past 20 years can clean out the cobwebs and rottenness in Washington.—Sen. Irving Ives (R., N. Y.).

We do not have enough engineers in incubation to carry on a nation's work.—Former President Herbert Hoover.

Good Evening...

By CLINT DUNATHAN

THE OLD OPERA HOUSE—The other day I met Cedric Johnston, who is the brother of Harold, Charles, Warren, Loran, Curtis, Laura, Nettie, Ethel and Esther. Another sister is dead. It was a big family.

Cedric, who was born in Marinette, 66 years ago this coming Sunday, now lives in Marion, N. C., and is visiting relatives in Escanaba. It was the third time he has been "home" to Escanaba in the past 46 years.

Cedric has had an interesting life in show business—a business in which he received his first experience as stage manager at the old Peterson Opera House back shortly after the turn of the century.

Now known as the Escanaba Globe Company plant and formerly the Coliseum, the Peterson Opera House was built and operated by the late P. M. Peterson. The big one-story frame building is located at the corner of First Avenue South and Fourth Street.

NAMES TO REMEMBER—Many people with great names in the world of entertainment trod the boards at the old Peterson Opera House, Cedric Johnston told me.

There was Otis Skinner in "The Harvester", Miss Anna Held, the beautiful comedienne, who entertained with "Papa's Wife", and the Winninger Brothers (Charles, Frank and Adolph) Stock Company shows were perennially popular.

All of those named above have taken their last curtain call except Charles Winninger who lives in New York and is a character actor in the movies.

John Phillip Sousa's band is well remembered by Cedric in its first appearance here. Sousa gave Cedric a five dollar bill. He kept it for many years.

PLAYS OF YESTERYEAR—Peterson's Opera House was popular every day of the week, for when there were no shows scheduled there was the roller skating to enjoy.

But the shows drew the crowds in the days before the movies—shows like "The Chocolate Soldier", "Isle of Spice", "King Dodo", "The Liberty Bells", "The Merry Widow", and chilling melodramas titled "Devil's Auction" and "The Evil Eye."

Before coming to Escanaba, Cedric Johnston was on hand for the grand opening of the Menominee Opera House—the biggest theater of its kind in the North Country. The opener was "Prince of Persia", as Cedric recalls.

THE CIRCUS CALLS—From stage managing the Peterson Opera House, Cedric Johnston went into the really big show—as bill poster for Barnum & Bailey Circus.

With Barnum and Bailey and later with the Walter L. Main Circus and others Cedric traveled an estimated 50,000 miles from coast to coast in the United States and Canada.

He collected one of the finest displays of circus posters in the nation, finally retired and is settled with his wife at Marion, N. C.

The movie "The Greatest Show on Earth" currently playing at Escanaba has been seen twice by Cedric, who vouches for its authenticity—with one exception. Ringling Brothers never had a train wreck, but it did have a disastrous fire in Connecticut.

SIGHTS AND MEMORIES—Marking back to early days at Peterson's Opera House, Cedric recalled a young man named Arthur Courtney White, son of an Escanaba plasterer, who studied in New York City and became a Shakespearean actor, later touring the nation.

Fifteen years ago Cedric found that Arthur White was a radio announcer in Detroit, went there to introduce himself. They had dinner together. It was the first time they had met after 32 years, when White was a stage hand at Peterson's.

"I heard that White died a couple years ago," Cedric said.

Now visiting the Johnston clan here, Cedric made a trip to Marinette with his brother, Warren.

Some of the brothers and sisters live elsewhere, including Mrs. Ethel Jorgenson, Pontiac, and Mrs. Esther Sheffield, Chicago. Sisters residing in Escanaba are Mrs. Joseph (Laura) Carney, and Mrs. Nettie Olson.

Power With Words

By Dr. C. E. Funk

Venice and Florence, back in the Middle Ages, were the trading centers of the world. Their ships entered every port, buying here and selling there. This trade was financed by money-changers at their tables or benches near the cathedrals, where they could be readily approached by merchants eager to set out on another voyage.

But if, as frequently happened, such merchant was shipwrecked and the money-changer was forced out of business by his losses, his bench (banca) was broken (rupta) by his fellow money-changers to show that he was no longer in business. Such was the origin of our word bankrupt.

This Latin word ruptus (from the verb rumpo, to break) forms a part of several words. Taken alphabetically, the first is abrupt, which, through the nature of the Latin use, means broken off suddenly.

Next is corrupt. In the original Latin the literal meaning was broken altogether, broken to pieces. Modified through the years, the sense now is "marred, injured, or spoiled; changed from good to bad, or from pure to impure."

To disrupt is literally to break apart, to break asunder; hence, to shatter, to break to pieces. An army that has been forcibly scattered to the four winds by an opposing force is said to be disrupted. An earthquake may disrupt a city; an insurrection may disrupt a government, and even a church may be disrupted when a group of its members break away from it.

UNCLE EF

Arch Nearbrite was a little confused, but has been straightened out on the Washington mess. Eisenhower has started talking about. He was assured that the reference to mess in this case is not the same as the army term for mealtime, even though Ike is a retired general.

The Doctor Says... Too Frequent Use of Drugs Is Likely to Cause Addiction

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

One of today's biggest social and medical problems is narcotic addiction, or what is perhaps more commonly known as the drug habit. This problem is serious and a danger, not only to the unfortunate individuals who contract this habit, but to the entire fabric of society.

What causes drug addiction, and what can be done about it? No one really wants to become a drug addict with all the sad physical, mental and social effects which eventually result.

Consequently it is felt that most victims of the habit are those who feel themselves inadequate to face life, who have feelings of inferiority, who are social misfits in some way, or who have been suffering from ill health and have unwisely taken these habit-forming drugs too long, until they can no longer stop.

In referring to the drug habit one usually means a craving for one of the derivatives of opium, although cocaine and marijuana can also be included among the habit-forming drugs.

To opium and its derivatives, suffering humanity owes an enormous debt, since these substances have been used over the centuries to relieve unbearable pain, but they cannot be used indefinitely without running the risk of developing a craving.

The symptoms of habit-formation come slowly. At first the health is little disturbed, but gradually the dose of the drug used has to be increased in order to produce the pleasant symptoms.

When the habit has been finally formed, the victim of drug addiction becomes mentally depressed and often suffers from vague symptoms in the digestive tract or elsewhere whenever the effects of the drug have worn off.

This leads towards more frequent use of the particular drug and the need for larger doses until the confirmed addict is completely at the mercy of dope rings or peddlers who supply it.

As the habit gets worse, the confirmed addict loses weight, develops a poor complexion and tends toward premature grayness. He becomes irritable and restless when not under the influence of the drug. His sleep is disturbed and the appetite fails.

TREATMENT IS DIFFICULT

The treatment of fully established drug addiction is difficult indeed. Too often someone who has the habit will commit almost any crime in order to obtain the drug. Treatment, to be effective, is best given in an institution.

The greatest effort in the control of narcotic addiction should be made to inform everyone, including youngsters of high school age, of the dangers of starting down this path, which looks so attractive at the beginning but has only thorns at the end.

In addition, public opinion must be aroused so that measures are taken continuously to smash the dope rings and vicious elements of society which are leading so many innocent victims to disaster.

Flying Umbrella Is Possible, Unlikely

By FRANK CAREY
(Associated Press Science Reporter)

WASHINGTON — Regardless of whether there's anything to this flying saucer business, an atomic powered "flying umbrella" space ship is theoretically possible.

Moreover, the umbrella part would look like a huge saucer — and it would glow with an orange color like that reported by some of the people who claim to have seen flying saucers.

But it would require ten trillion dollars in radioactive materials to propel it into interplanetary space.

Dr. George Gamow, George Washington University physicist, tossed off the idea of a flying umbrella in a book "Atomic Energy" published in 1946, a year before reports of "flying saucers" began cropping up.

Gamow's idea, which he said he offered "for what it is worth," was this:

Attach a huge umbrella-shaped sheet of metal to the tail of a rocket ship. Line the inner side of the umbrella with some "ordinary" chemical made radioactive by being exposed to atomic neutrons in a uranium furnace.

Launch the rocket with some orthodox jet fuel. When the rocket was nearing the limits of the earth's atmosphere, unfurl the umbrella at the tail. Radiations would give a "recoil push" to the metallic umbrella — pushing it and the rocket ship into space.

Gamow says his 1946 idea is "still possible in principle, but not practical." He offered no estimate of cost.

Another Washington physicist, who declines to be quoted by name, says "it's theoretically possible — but fantastically impractical."

Getting out his slide-rule, he came up with these figures:

Say you had a rocket ship weighing 10 tons, not counting the weight of the metallic umbrella, which Gamow himself figured would have to be "many hundred square feet" in area.

You'd need about 10 tons of radioactive material to furnish the recoil effect necessary to propel your rocket ship at 25,000 miles an hour. That's the speed you'd have to achieve to escape the gravitational pull of the earth. And that tonnage of radioactive stuff—assuming that it could be prepared—would cost you a cool ten trillion dollars.

Gamow suggested the external umbrella idea as one possible means of overcoming the hazard of using active uranium within the confines of a space ship.

C&NW Men Get Rule Book Exams

Chicago and North Western employees will begin next month to take examinations in new railroad operations rules which become effective Jan. 1.

Before Dec. 31, every employee in train, engine or yard service, train dispatching or telegraph operating must pass an examination on the new rule book which replaces a 1929 volume.

The examinations will begin here Nov. 1 and continue until the end of year, by which time all C&NW employees will have taken the test to become more familiar with present railroad functioning.

The tests here will be administered by train dispatcher Ray Olson and locomotive engineer A. R. Anderson with the assistance of division officers.

The 1953 rule book is a 173-page volume covering all phases of the operation of the C&NW railway and incorporating the changes that have occurred since the last complete volume.

The new publication was made necessary by several operational innovations including diesel power, automatic train control, signal indicators, more complex equipment, etc. It carries a helpful comprehensive index, a feature missing in the old book.

Spectacular State Crowds Gather To Cheer Eisenhower

City, 20,000 in Saginaw; 6,000 in Lapeer whose population is only 6,116; 20,000 in Flint, 8,000 in Lansing, 25,000 in Jackson and 10,000 in Grand Rapids.

Cut Off At Lapeer These do not include the banner-waving throngs that lined the streets enroute to and beyond his speaking places.

But all did not go according to plan during the tour. At Lapeer, where enthusiasts from five counties of Michigan's Thumb area gathered, the campaign train pulled out before Eisenhower could speak more than a few words.

A little girl, planning to present a bouquet of roses, was left with the flowers in her arms. An elderly gentleman took them from her, sprinted after the train and shoved them in the hands of a newspaperman scrambling for the train.

Later Eisenhower issued a statement that he "deeply regretted" the Lapeer incident. He said, "I was looking forward to discussing with them the Lapeer people some of the issues of the campaign."

No Ironwood Visit As the train pulled away at Kalamazoo last night Mayor Glenn B. Allen Jr. tossed aboard the city's best known vegetable product, a big bunch of celery.

That made it a lucrative day for gifts. Among the many donations was a Bunyan-sized motor donated by the people of Holland to "clean up the mess," a gift certificate for a $500 desk, to be delivered at the White House Jan. 1 from Grand Rapids; two bushels of Michigan apples, and a crock of Michigan beans from Saginaw.

Unless plans are changed, this will be the candidate's last tour of outstate Michigan. It was learned Wednesday that plans for an Oct. 4 visit to Ironwood at the western end of the Upper Peninsula had been cancelled because of a conflict with Sen. Nixon's itinerary.

Eisenhower is expected to make his final state appearance on Oct. 24 when he is scheduled to deliver a major address in Detroit.

Briefly Told

Home from Korea — Corporal Thomas McCrory of Combat Engineers who spent the past year in active service in Korea has arrived here on a 30-day leave and is visiting at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glen McCrory, 306 N. 16th St.

Two Are Injured — David Smith, 17, of Kipling, is receiving treatment at St. Francis Hospital for rib injuries suffered early today in an auto accident just north of the Gladstone city limits. Edward LaCrosse, 22, Gladstone Rte. 1, was treated for head cuts and released.

Couillard Jailed — A 30-day jail sentence was ordered for Norbert Couillard, 19, of Woodlawn near Cornell following his plea of guilty today in Justice Henry Ranguette's court to a charge of larceny. Also held here is his brother, William Couillard, 43, charged with non-support; and Joseph Polequin, 17, of Escanaba, who authorities said will be charged with unlawfully driving away an automobile and violation of probation.

Balloons Tear Loose

MUNSAN — Two of the four balloons marking the Panmunjom neutral zone where truce negotiations occasionally sputter along were snapped loose today by a sudden storm.

They floated south toward Allied lines.

Williams Wants Alger To Outline His Economy Plan

Republican candidate for U. S. Senator, rejected a proposal for a new series of debates with his Democratic opponent, Sen. Blair Moody.

The AFL Teamsters Union in Detroit, which is supporting Moody proposed the debates.

Potter said he already had met Moody on the platform four times and refused to change his speaking schedule. Moody, he said, "can find no other way to attract an audience."

Moody also ran into opposition from a Detroit group delegated to raise funds to carry on the fight for Congressional approval of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

The group said Moody's statement yesterday that big Detroit auto companies had pledged upwards of $100,000 for the fight "is not true."

Drive Just Started

"We unfortunately must refute the Senator's statement because we are now only starting the drive to raise funds in Michigan," said the group. "We still need money and haven't raised anything that looks like $100,000 yet."

The group was assigned to the fund-raising job by the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Seaway Association. It is composed of Foster Winter, Treasurer of the J. L. Hudson Co.; Richard B. Frost of the Detroit Board of Commerce; Troy Browning, chairman of the Detroit Port Commission, and Landon Knight, secretary of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Association.

'I Like Ike—But' Is Truman Theme

The police chief said there were 10,000 persons who applauded and waved as Truman drove the eight blocks from his special train to the armory.

Truman told reporters he was having the time of his life on this campaign, and he looked it as he strode through the 16-car special late yesterday, chatting amiably with reporters.

His efforts to cut down on Eisenhower prestige as a candidate for president increased at every appearance before a train crowd. The route today led through Ephrata, Wenatchee, Skykomish and Everett, Wash., into Seattle for a talk there at 9 p.m., Eastern Standard Time.

Another important address was set for Tacoma at 11:30 p.m., EST, after a whistle-stop speech at Kent, between Tacoma and Seattle.

While he put out a prepared address on the Spokane speech, he got in his toughest and roughest campaign licks at the whistle stops.

Lots of Generals

Such as at Troy, Mont., where he got around to calling the GOP the "generals' own party."

"The Republicans have General Motors, and General Electric, and General Foods, and Gen. MacArthur and Gen. Martin (Sen. Martin of Pennsylvania) and Gen. Wedemeyer," he said.

"And then they have their own five-star general who is running for president, and I understand he will carry some other generals around with him to give him a hand in the political campaign."

"That's a lot of generals. I want to say to you that every general I know is on this list—every general I have mentioned in this list is in the general's column. Except general welfare, and general welfare is in with the corporals and the privates in the Democratic party."

Just Buck Private

He said if all the privates vote for Adlai Stevenson, "you know what the results will be."

Truman said that while he personally is "just a buck private in the rear ranks in this campaign," he does happen to be president and "therefore I am leader of the Democratic Party."

"But," he said, with a twinkle in his eye, "I am ready to act as a private any time Adlai Stevenson asks me to act one."

And over and over, Truman hammered away that Eisenhower is a "great general" but unsuited for the presidency because of his lack of knowledge of "the civilian world" and of politics.

"Now I like Ike, and I like him fine—as I say—as that commanding general; but I don't like him for what he stands now," he told a crowd at Whitefish, Mont. "I don't think he knows what he is doing. I think all the Republican reactionaries are whispering in his ear, and pulling his leg, and he just doesn't know what they mean."

"If you like Ike as I do, you will vote with me to send him back to the Army where he belongs. That's the best thing you can do for him—and get him out of the terrible company he is keeping, and it will help our country keep out of the mess we will be in if he is elected."

Duck Hunter Shot

PONTIAC — The first reported wounding casualty of the new small game hunting season is 24-year-old Richard Seidel of Utica. He was shot accidentally as he crouched in the weeds while duck hunting on a farm north of Romeo on opening day yesterday.

Long Friendship Broken Up With Truman's Jibes

at Champaign and ending with a major speech tonight at Peoria at 9:30 p.m., Eastern Standard Time.

Then he was due to head tomorrow into Wisconsin, the home state of GOP Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, whose Communist-in-government charges have created a furor across the nation in both political parties.

There was considerable speculation on just how far Eisenhower would go in endorsing McCarthy and whether the two would be side by side in the rear platform appearances that the general is due to make in Wisconsin.

Michigan In Bag

Privately, Eisenhower has been bitterly critical of McCarthy's attacks on his old friend, Gen. George C. Marshall, former secretary of state, former secretary of defense, and wartime chief of staff of the Army. But he has said he would support all GOP nominees for election and presumably this would include McCarthy.

The GOP candidate entered Illinois after a spectacular sweep through Michigan. The big turnouts left his lieutenants hopeful the Republicans would capture the state's 20 electoral votes by a wide margin in November.

Despite the Stevenson endorsement by both the CIO and AFL labor chiefs, Eisenhower was given warm receptions in industrial centers having big labor votes.

Sen. Homer Ferguson of Michigan, who rode with Eisenhower across the state yesterday, said he was convinced the people had turned out in large numbers at each whistle stop because they intend to vote for Eisenhower.

Cheered By 100,000

"If they were just curious—just out to see a national hero," Ferguson said, "they wouldn't have been as responsive as they were. The response convinces me they intend to vote for him."

In eight stops, more than 100,000 people came to cheer the GOP candidate even though there was a threat of rain most of the day.

Eisenhower didn't mention President Truman by name in any of his speeches yesterday. But time after time he hit back with sharp criticism of the President.

He told a crowd at Lansing, the state capital: "We are determined to pursue in the foreign field a comprehensive, firm, broad policy that will truly lead toward peace. We think there has been enough frittling around, enough indecision and enough failures in this field in the last seven years."

By limiting this criticism to the past seven years, Eisenhower was hitting directly at Truman who went into the White House after the death of President Roosevelt in 1945.

But while the central theme of these talks revolved around foreign policy, the general sprayed the field with his criticisms—hitting at high taxes, inflation, corruption in government, and the leadership in Washington.

The general offered no specific cures for the ills he saw them. He told each audience much the same thing he told the cheering throng at Lansing: "All that this new (Republican) administration can promise to you when this crusade has become a success is that it will approach every single problem from the standpoint of the welfare of 155 million people."

Republican Rock Visited

"No one section, no one class, no one group can profit at the expense of anybody else. What is good for America—that is all that can be promised. Because everything else has been promised and most of those promises were no good anyway."

At Jackson, Eisenhower left his train to drive through cheering crowds to the rock known as the "Republican Rock"—marking the spot where the party had its founding in 1854.

From there he drove to Withington Park, here police estimated up to 14,000 people were waiting to hear him. In this talk he linked internal prosperity with foreign policy, warning the United States must stay strong and prosperous to lead the fight for peace.

Biggest At Flint

"The old virtues of thrift and economy must be practiced," he said. "Unless we do that, we cannot preserve the kind of America necessary to bring us peace in the world."

The biggest, noisiest and warmest welcome given to the general in Michigan came at Flint—the big automobile-building center. Up to 40,000 people jammed themselves around the City Hall to hear him praise the late GOP Sen. Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan and his fight for the idea of collective security for the free nations.

Aluminum Needed

WASHINGTON — Defense Mobilization director Henry H. Fowler says aluminum production must be expanded by 200,000 short tons a year "to protect the country from a crippling bottleneck in the event of war."

He told the Senate-House Defense Production Committee that invitations will be issued to interested American business firms to submit proposals immediately for facilities to turn out the extra metal.

Drive On Michigan Racketeers Brings $930,228 Back Tax

WASHINGTON (AP)—A federal crackdown netted $930,228 in back income taxes from 451 racketeers in Michigan during the year ended last June 30, the Internal Revenue Bureau reported.

More than 2,000 agents have been assigned to special racket squads throughout the nation to try to extract every dollar possible in taxes from illegal income, the bureau said.

Second Ore Car In Bay Following Recovery Mishap

A second C&NW ore car is in the water off No. 6 dock today after a hapless tactic during salvage operations this morning.

While the work and recovery crew was trying to move the up-ended ore car from the crib onto salvager's barge, the car rolled into the bay off the south side of the dock.

The car, together with one lying in water about 75 feet from the end of the dock, fell off the top of No. 6 Sunday when an engine accidentally forced the cars to the edge.

A salvage firm was engaged to recover both cars today. The mishap occurred during the operation to recover the ore car which fell to the crib, a jutting structure at the end of the dock.

Officials had announced late this morning that the car would not be an obstruction to ore carriers going into the south side of No. 6 dock.

Fireside Chats Set For Stevenson

to match what they described as a two-million-dollar plan by which the Republicans hope to "saturate" radio and TV sets in the last few weeks of the campaign and swing 12 states and the election to Gen. Eisenhower.

George Ball, Washington D. C., lawyer and executive director of the Volunteers for Stevenson, distributed yesterday copies of a plan he said the GOP has adopted to present "Eisenhower every hour on the hour" in 49 normally democratic counties in the 12 states.

The air, Ball said, "will be thick with political soap suds and goosy with tasteless bubble gum" from a "super colossal, multimillion-dollar production" designed to sell candidates like soap or hair tonic or toothpaste.

In New York, however, Rosser Reeves, an advertising agency executive, said he had the suggested plan drawn up but it later was discarded as not feasible because the desired radio and TV spots are not for sale and the money is not available.

Ohio Man Who Won British Wife By Mail Gets Out Of Jail

CINCINNATI (AP)—Le Cameron Trent, 61-year-old Loveland, O., businessman who wooed and won a British wife by correspondence, is out of jail.

Trent, as committed to jail Sept. 23 for failure to pay a court-ordered $30 a week support to his wife, Mrs. Olga Julia Trent, a native of Hull, England. Both have divorce proceedings pending.

Trent, who had said he would stay in jail "until it rots," was released yesterday after Bernard Gilday, his attorney, said $700 for payment to Mrs. Trent had been raised by mortgaging one of Trent's two automobiles. Trent has claimed he is broke.

Taft Says G.O.P. Can Work And Win

week with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, who defeated him for the party's nomination, but in those appearances he made a special effort to keep in the background.

At the end of his current 19-state tour, which will take him to all parts of the country except the southeast and New England, Taft will return to campaign in Ohio for three more days on the week-end before election.

Admitting his loss of the nomination "was a disappointment to me, naturally, and to my friends," Taft made it clear to his audience he wanted them to join in an all-out crusade against "the danger to liberty today—big government."

Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois, the Democratic presidential candidate, is "no different from Truman in his philosophy of government," Taft said. Under that philosophy, he added, "the government will plan your life and my life; the government will tell us what we should do."

Under recent Democratic administrations, he said, "the idea of emergency power—something like the divine right of kings—has permeated our government."

"Stopping the spending is one remedy for the present condition," Taft said, and added this "Stevenson says you can't do, because the Russians have imposed it on us."

"No matter what Democrat is elected, he can't clean out the bureaucrats," Taft asserted.

British General Says U.N. Can Block Any Enemy Push In Korea

VANCOUVER, B. C. (AP)—A British general back from Korea expressed confidence last night that United Nations forces, arrayed in three lines of defense, can stop any new Communist offensive.

"In my view," said Maj. Gen. A. J. H. Cassels, "if we don't stop them at the first, we'll probably stop them at the second, and undoubtedly at the third."

Gen. Cassels was the former commander of the Commonwealth Brigade in Korea.

"I have a hunch there will be a Korean armistice within six to nine months," he added in an interview. "Why, I don't know."

Wall Street

By RADAR WINGET
NEW YORK (AP)—Railroads and radio-television issues encouraged the stock market into a modest rally today.

Gains were largely fractional. Volume was at a pace that suggested around a million shares for the entire day. Yesterday's total was 1,006,000 shares.

Willys-Overland, both common and preferred, hit a new high in early active trading before subsiding somewhat. The common opened on a 5,000 share block unchanged at 104 and then moved up.

Stocks moving up included Atlantic Coast Line, Santa Fe, Nickel Plate, Standard Oil, N. J., Texaco, American Smelting, Du Pont, General Electric, Chrysler, Boeing, Admiral Corp., and Radio Corp.

A little lower were Gulf Oil, Eastern Air Lines, Consolidated Edison, American Cyanamid, International Paper, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, and Douglas Aircraft.

Robber Accused Of Auto Thefts

MARQUETTE (AP)—Confessed bank robber Alden William Brooks, 27, was held under $10,000 bond today following his arraignment on two federal charges of car stealing.

But $8,000 in loot from the bank stickup which he claimed was buried beneath a tree in the northwestern lower peninsula still was undiscovered.

State police, unsuccessful after two days of searching for the money near Rose City, said they believed Brooks either was covering up the actual location, was confused about it or never actually buried it there at all.

The $8,000, Brooks said, was part of his $25,720 loot from an Ankeny, Ia., bank robbery. He said the rest is cached in Oklahoma.

Both charges filed against Brooks yesterday were for violations of the Dyer Act transporting stolen cars across state lines.

U. S. Commissioner Roscoe W. Baldwin set bond at $5,000 on each charge and ordered him held for transfer to the Grand Rapids federal district.

Specifically, Brooks is charged with taking a car stolen in Springfield, Ariz., to Gladstone, Mich. and with transporting another stolen car from Flint to Milwaukee.

Federal officers held in reserve another warrant charging him with the attempted holdup of the Poplar, Wis., State Bank.

Also held for possible future action was a warrant charging a breaking and entering of a tavern at nearby McFarland, one of 15 crimes in Michigan which officers said Brooks had confessed. He also told of uncounted other crimes in other parts of the country during a two-month, cross-country spree this summer.

Marines Get Lowdown On Stone-Slinging Of Reds In Korea

WITH U. S. MARINES, Korea — Leathernecks captured a Communist scout a few days ago and got the lowdown on the recent flurry of rock-throwing.

Marines bumped into a four-man Red patrol, said Capt. Ramon J. A. Gibson, Jacksonville, Fla.

"The Communies tried to get away but we captured one of them. He told us that three members of the rock patrol carried only stones. The fourth man was armed with a rifle."

The Reds would sneak up on Allied positions and throw their rocks, hoping to draw fire. Then Communist mortars would open up.

"The first couple of times rocks started bouncing off our bunkers we figured it was some wise guy," Gibson said. "Now we wonder whether the Commie with the rifle was along to protect the three rock throwers or to keep them in there pitching."

Teachers Won't Tell

NEW YORK (AP)—Six New York City school teachers face ouster from their jobs today for refusal to tell a Senate internal security subcommittee whether or not they were Communists.

The pending action was announced yesterday by Dr. Frederic Ernst, deputy superintendent of schools.

Balinese Belles Strive For Soda Straw Figures

BALINESE BELLES: Curved like a soda straw.

By EDWARD CANNEL
NEW YORK—(NEA)—Nine young ladies sat in the bathtub, blissfully exploding one of America's more exotic dreams. They were giggling as the water splashed. They had no idea what they were doing to red-blooded men.

These nine doll-sized "Dancers of Bali" are here as representatives of the tops in talent from the South Sea isle of Bali. And they are—should be—what every man means when he says, "Ahhh, the South Seas."

The Balinese belles discovered the bathtub quickly. They love it. It's like being home in Bali and sitting in the river, according to their chaperones, Mr. and Mrs. John Coast.

But there's more than bathtub water to dash on the Balinese dream. There is first and foremost the matter of architecture.

The Balinese beauty is as slim as a shadow and curved like a soda straw. When she's finally out of the tub and dressed in her long tight cotton sheath and scarf, she measures 28 at the bust; 25 at the waist and 27 at the hips.

Miss America—the competing dream—is more apt to measure 34 in the bust; 24 in the waist; and 34 in the hips.

Then, of course, there's the noise. The Balinese speak in choppy fragments that sound like high-pitched radio static. And they giggle when they laugh, or when they talk, or when they bathe.

According to Mr. and Mrs. Coast, the South Pacific beauties are particularly well schooled in looking after their material needs. "All they want to take back with them," Mrs. Coast said, "are jewels and diamonds."

The Balinese, she explained, are taught from the time they are seven years old to look out for themselves and be practical about their personal futures.

They want jewelry because it never loses value. But the girls also want money with which to buy rice fields at home. Eating can be a problem in Bali.

Although the dancers smile, it's a set smile adopted years ago when they started to dance. And they never become excited or impressed by anything.

"It is the character of the Balinese people," Mrs. Coast said, "to have no real capacity for enthusiasm."

To top it off, the privileged beauties of Bali—the dancers—are hardly good housekeepers. They are not allowed to expose their sensitive and delicate hands

Certificate Wrong; Joe Is No Woman

THREE RIVERS, Que. (AP)—A 38-year-old man says he is not a woman and his name is Joseph Romeo, no matter what his baptismal certificate says.

He asked the Superior Court here yesterday to order a change in his certificate, which attests to the birth of a girl, Marie Arthemise, Dec. 2, 1914.

The man's parents told the court Joseph's godmother was named Marie Arthemise. The priest at the baptismal apparently entered her name on the wrong line, then deduced from that the baby was female.

Nobody noticed the mistake until Joseph's employer asked for the certificate in connection with a pension fund.

Joseph also told the court he's married and is the father of six children. Judge Leon LaJoie said he would give a decision later.

Massachusetts, in 1677, bought the claims of heirs to the state of Maine for about 1250 English pounds, or $6250.

to manual labor. And they are discouraged from any contact or thought about men. They must have completely pure minds, uncontaminated by the world.

PRAYER CALL—A Mohammedan muezzin, dressed in strictly non-traditional combat clothes, calls the faithful to prayer from atop an improvised minaret at the Turkish Infantry Brigade headquarters in Korea. The minaret, constructed from ammunition boxes, is painted traditional Mohammedan green.

Predict Warmer World Climate

WASHINGTON—The world is gradually growing warmer and warmer, by all the signs of science.

Melting of ice fields, migration of birds and animals, and northward march of plant life in this hemisphere gives ample evidence of changing climate, a noted Swedish glaciologist told the 17th Congress of the International Geographical Union in Washington.

Dr. Hans W. Ahlmann, Swedish Ambassador to Norway and a foremost specialist in glacier science, described the change to the American Geographical Society at the official banquet here for geographers from more than 50 nations. Officers and members of the National Geographic Society were among the hosts for the Congress.

Dr. Ahlmann said the northern hemisphere in particular has become progressively warmer in the last century. The change has accelerated since 1900.

As yet, science does not know enough to predict whether this climatic warm-up will continue, he added. Some experts feel the world may enter a colder period within the next ten years.

To date, however, there have been startling changes in animal and vegetable life throughout this hemisphere, the scientist stated. One out of every four bird species of Europe has moved north. Eskimos in Greenland are catching cod for the first time in history, while Icelandic herring schools are diminishing due to the warm-up of the surface of the sea.

Man's most sensitive thermometers of climate are glaciers. Dr. Ahlmann said that almost all glaciers in the northern hemisphere and some in the southern, are now receding.

This "glacier recession" has been observed in Scandinavia, the Alps, Iceland, and North America. Ice fields on extinct volcanoes in Central Africa have diminished. Similar melting-down has been reported from Asia Minor, South America, and New Zealand.

Climatic Calipers

The present climatic change, the glaciologist asserted, is the first in the world's history which science has been able to measure, investigate, and possibly explain. Conifer seedlings have been tracked northward in Scandinavia to timberline where there have been new seedlings for about 100 years. In Iceland, 37 new species and sub-species of birds have appeared since 1938, and the entire landscape of the central plateau of that "land of fire and ice" is changing.

Following the international congress, Dr. Ahlmann will fly to Alaska to join an expedition on Taku Glacier near Juneau. The Swedish Ambassador is one of the first pioneers in the study of the physical properties of glacier ice.

Free Schools Train 200,000 Jews To Support Themselves

By ADELAIDE KERR
NEW YORK (AP)—One of Jewry's oldest helping-hand organizations, ORT hit a new high on the Jewish New Year in mid-September with 200,000 migrants trained for self-support since the close of World War II.

ORT is the Organization for Rehabilitation Through Training, founded in 1882 in Czarist Russia, to give Jews free industrial training which would enable them to earn their livings in the wide-spreading industrial movement. Since then it has extended its activities until it girdles the globe.

Now In 19 Countries

In World War II, when homeless, jobless DPs began to filter out of European concentration camps, ORT started two schools in New York to give them mechanical training for self support. It established similar schools in every DP camp in Germany and Austria.

When Israel's rapid growth brought in a great shortage of skilled workers, ORT established schools to train workers for factory jobs and the repair and maintenance of agricultural machinery. To meet the needs of Jewish refugees from the Palestine war, ORT set up more schools in North Africa and the Middle East.

Today ORT—now a world organization—operates in 19 countries.

It is supported by private contributions.

Training given in the ORT schools is free. Ninety-five per cent of the students are Jews, but registration is not limited by age, color or religion.

Rabbis And Lawyers

The New York schools—two of the most flourishing in ORT's world network—have trained 10,000 DPs for self-support since they were founded in World War II.

One is the ORT Trade School, teaching radio and TV repair, mechanical and architectural drawing and jewelry making. The other is the Bramson ORT Trade School, specializing in needlework trades. Both operate in the late afternoon and early evening four days a week, as most of the students hold day jobs.

Walk into them any school evening and you will find men who were formerly rabbis, lawyers and businessmen and women who were once professors and nurses bending over the machines. Many of those trained in the schools are now working in American industry.

One operates a corset factory employing 20 operators, another owns a lingerie factory, a third runs a factory producing plastic articles.

Duty Rate Raised On Chlorophyll Extract

NEW YORK (AP)—After due consideration the Bureau of Customs has classified imports of certain extracts of chlorophyll at the higher of two possible duty rates because they are used chiefly for deodorizing, medicinal and therapeutic purposes, says the current Commerce and Industry Association bulletin.

They will be classed as chemical compounds rather than extracts and preparations of vegetable origin used for dyeing, coloring, staining or tanning. The duty rate will be 12½ per cent ad valorem whereas 7½ per cent would have been the rate as an extract.

Gift Guitar Changes Preston Foster's Life

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Here I am carving out an entirely new career in middle age. And all because my wife gave me a guitar for Christmas.

Preston Foster talking. The same guy who has been playing heroes and heavies in movies for two decades. He now confesses to being on the "shady side of my 40s" (okay, so he's 50), and he's doing a great business as a live performer.

Collected Folk Songs
"Four years ago, my wife gave me a guitar for Christmas," he explained. "I had fun learning to play it and would sing along to accompany myself. I always thought my wife (actress Sheila Darcy) had a good voice when she sang in the car, so I got her to sing with me.

"We started collecting folk songs by listening to the records of Burl Ives, Susan Reed, Leadbelly and others. We sang them at parties and people seemed to like it. Then I made a picture for Bob Lippert called 'I Shot Jesse James' and was going to San Francisco for the premiere.

"I didn't want to do the usual spiel of 'I hope you enjoy the picture as much as we enjoyed making it.' So my wife and I sang some folk songs. An agent happened to catch our act and offered to book us around the country."

Lark Is Profitable
It all started as a lark, but has turned into a highly profitable enterprise for the Fosters. They have just returned from playing such dates as the Wisconsin State Fair and the Portland, Ore., Auto Show.

"We play anywhere, from concerts to night clubs," the actor remarked. "Sometimes the audiences amaze us. We played a date in Atkinson, Neb., where the population is listed at 1,500. There were 3,500 in our audience."

Foster thanks his movie reputation for the amazing draw. "Even when you stop at a gas station out in the middle of nowhere, you'll find people know you from pictures," he remarked.

They Remember
"And it's surprising what they remember. One fellow said he'd never forget a scene I did with Paul Muni in 'I Was a Fugitive From a Chain Gang.' I did 1 1/2 day's work in that picture, which was made in 1931!"

It's one of those quirks of Hollywood life that Foster began his career as a singer but never got a chance to sing in the movies.

"I guess I started studying singing from the time my voice changed," he said. "I sang in opera in Chicago. Then I went to New York to find a singing job. After almost starving, I got a job as an actor. My first role on the stage was as a deaf mute Chinese. I decided it was a lot easier being an actor."

Danforth

DANFORTH—A Sunday night service will be held at the Danforth school, Oct. 5 at 8 p. m., conducted by A. M. Boomer. The topic of the sermon will be "Jesus, the Norm of Teachers." The public is invited.

Improvement Painting Leads to Contract

LAKEWOOD, Calif. (AP)—Two 17-year-old high school girls found some left-over house paint and turned it into life-sized Hawaiian murals on their garage.

Both girls, Jeanette Wallace and Pat Brehm, are art students and their handiwork has received numerous compliments.

In fact, says Pat, a neighbor has hired them to do murals on three sides of his patio.

THESE LITTLE PIGS WENT TO COLLEGE—When Melvin Blase, of St. Charles, Mo., arrived in Columbia, Mo., to attend the University of Missouri's College of Agriculture, he brought his pigs with him. He has rented a farm near the campus and plans to raise 80 head of registered Duroc porkers to help pay his way through school. With him is six-year-old Anne Waer, who thinks the piglets are cute.

Rock PTA Begins Program For Year

ROCK — The first Rock P. T. A. meeting for this year was well attended by parents, teachers and guests Monday evening, Sept. 29. During the business session plans were completed for an apple sauce canning project to benefit the school's hot lunch program with 15 women volunteering to work on it.

The room attendance award was tied for by the kindergarten and the first and second grade room.

Mrs. Leslie Maki, chairman of the dental program, reported that buses would transport children to Gladstone for dental care beginning Oct. 28.

The feature of the meeting was the program which consisted of a play "High Pressure Areas" followed by a discussion lead by Charles Folio, director of the University of Michigan Home Extension Service for Upper Michigan. The play, given by a cast of four Escanaba High School students, depicted typical problems often faced by teen age daughters and their parents. The group discussion centered around these problems.

During the social hour lunch was served by the executive committee. The next meeting will be held Oct. 27 with lunch being served by the kindergarten room mothers.

The executive committee met this same evening to discuss a means by which the crossing at the intersection of town could be made safer for school children in the morning, at noon and after school. Arne Johnson volunteered to look into the matter more completely so that it could be presented to the membership.

Coffee Social Sunday
A coffee social will be held at the home of Miss Irene Russi on Sunday, Oct. 5, during the afternoon and evening. Proceeds will be used for the benefit of the Finnish Lutheran Church in Rock. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Sunday School Opens
Sunday school will open on Sunday, Oct. 5, at the Finnish Lutheran Church beginning at 10 a. m.

Ancient Pyramid Found In Desert

WASHINGTON—A heretofore unknown pyramid has been discovered at Saqqara on the edge of Egypt's Western Desert, 50 miles from Cairo.

It is a step pyramid like the nearby Pyramid of Zoser, the earliest known building in the world made entirely of stone, the National Geographic Society reports. The step pyramids were built in ascending stages, each smaller than the last, as contrasted with the smooth outline of the later true pyramids.

Scientists think the new pyramid probably was built for King Zoser's successor about 2700 B. C. Discovery was made by archaeologists sinking trial pits in late 1951. They found a vast terrace, 1803 feet long and 558 feet wide, surrounded by remains of an enclosing wall, one section of which was perfectly preserved.

Ruined Temples

Within the enclosure were piles of broken stone and masonry suggesting the temples, shrines, and secondary tombs which make up a pyramid complex. A pit dug in the exact center of the terrace uncovered three parallel leaning walls about 30 feet high, in characteristic step pyramid construction.

The scorching heat of the Egyptian spring stopped work for a time, and the dimensions of the central structure have not yet been ascertained. When digging begins again this fall, efforts will be concentrated on a search for the well hidden burial chamber.

Egyptian officials say legendary curses will not stop the excavators. The most blistering curses inscribed on many tombs were directed more against violators of endowments than against grave robbers. Set up in lands and revenues, endowments insured proper religious services for the care of the departed soul.

They were protected by such curses as Penno engraved on his rock tomb in Ibrim: "As for anyone who shall disregard it, Amon King of the Gods shall be after him. Mut shall be after his wife, Khonsu shall be after his children. He shall hunger! He shall thirst! He shall faint! He shall sicken!"

Desert Quarries

But dynasties rose and fell. Burial chambers were entered and robbed despite thousands of tons of stone blocking the passageways. Chief damage was done by lime burners and builders who used the pyramids as convenient quarries. Thus, many pyramids disappeared and others lie still undiscovered in the desert sands.

Superstitions and tales as tall as the pyramids grew up and are believed even today. Inquiries come in regularly to the National Geographic Society's offices in Washington from people who believe that the interior angles and dimensions of the Great Pyramid of Cheops record history and foretell the future. This is a comparatively recent invention.

The idea that the inner passages were oriented for observing the stars is hardly more likely, since the builders blocked the passages with hundreds of tons of stone. Some ancient thought the pyramids were the granaries of Joseph, others that they were built by wise men to escape Noah's flood.

The Roman author, Pliny, writing in the 1st century A. C., dismissed the pyramids as "idle and foolish exhibitions of royal wealth." But Cheops' Great Pyramid remains the oldest and only surviving wonder of the seven ancient wonders of the world.

'Raydac' Is New 'Brain' --

Destined to aid in guided-missile research at the Navy Air Missile Test Center in Point Mugu, Calif., is a new electronic brain just completed at a cost of $2,000,000 in the Waltham, Mass., laboratories of the Raytheon Manufacturing Co. Diagram above shows how the thinking machine keeps track of a guided missile (1) by picking up radio-signals with receiving stations (2). Double check on speed and course is kept by radar tracking-equipment (3) which sends data through it is stored until fed into computer (6) which sends data through microwave-links (4) to recording instruments (5) where it is stored until fed into computer (6) for breakdown by the Raytheon Digital Automatic Computer, nicknamed RAYDAC. Console of the calculator is seen below. Solving problems in a few minutes which would take human teams 20 to 30 days, RAYDAC's 15 control panels are 44 feet long. The machine is capable of 1900 additions or subtractions, 1400 multiplications, 1100 divisions, has 5000 radio tubes or enough to build 1000 home radios.

Share Your Time With Youngster

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

There often may be a problem of adjustment between the mother and child walking home from nursery school if the child begins to loiter.

His walk home from school, including stops on the way in stores, is as educational as school itself. Let him have the valuable experience of stopping to talk with people, to get acquainted with animals and to look in windows.

You will only upset yourself and make the child nervous if you urge him constantly to hurry along.

Simply plan to allow enough time for the homeward trek and keep in mind that your child's mental growth and emotional growth are far more important than starting dinner on schedule.

If you have a really good reason for getting home quickly, explain it to the child and accept no whining from him. Learning to give up his pleasure for another's welfare is just as important in his life as the enrichment he gets from his accustomed loitering.

To get along with your child without exercising your authority constantly is the great test in this situation. He may find that adjusting to authority, which he must do from cradle to grave, can be pleasant and need not make him feel constantly rebellious and frustrated.

A sanforized garment won't shrink more than 1 percent while a "pre-shrunk" garment may shrink as much as 2 or 3 percent which would make an inch difference in length.

AS WE LIVE

Aging Don Juan Will Soon Lose His Zest

By Elizabeth B. Hurlock, Ph.D.
Some men are ladies' men from childhood to the grave. They live on the attention and flattery they get from women and enjoy nothing more than one affair after another. This wife doesn't know what to do about the problem:

(Q) "I am 56 and my husband, who is a successful business, is a few years older than I. We have 2 married children. Since we moved here, 20-odd years ago, my husband has had one affair after another, each lasting a few years. When I confront him with the facts, he will neither admit nor deny. If I make an issue of the matter, he leaves home for a month or two. I know I should have left him when this first occurred but, for the sake of my children, I didn't. The thought of separation or divorce doesn't faze him. My daughter says leave him but my son says no. Can he be changed? If not, what?"

(A) As you and your husband are approaching old age, you would be unwise to break up your home. This would mean a lonely, unhappy old age for you—certainly not the proper reward for the years of sacrifice and devotion you have given your family.

Of course your husband won't "change" at this age. However, as he grows older and his strength and health fail, he will be less and less interested in women. Then he will turn to the comforts of home. If you turn him out, he will be the quick and easy prey of any woman who happens to be around at the time.

Your decision must be whether you want to turn him over to someone else and face a lonely old age or whether you will put up with him a bit longer and hope that his interest in women will begin to taper off. Don't allow your daughter's advice to influence you unless she's willing to give you a home and see to it that your old age isn't lonely. Does she stop to think of what her advice will mean to you? You waited too long to change the pattern of your life. If you have put up with your husband's affairs all these years, the best thing is to put up with them a bit longer.

If you have a personal problem, write Elizabeth Hurlock in care of this newspaper.

Survey of Status Of Women Planned By Club Federation

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A survey of the exact status of women in the United States as exemplified by discriminatory laws has been planned by the General Federation of Women's Clubs, which is asking its forty-eight state federations to undertake the survey.

Mrs. Oscar A. Ahlgren of Whiting, Indiana, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, and Mrs. John L. Whitehurst, of Baltimore, Maryland, chairman of the Americanism department, are spearheading the inventory of women's status in the various states as a basis for future action.

In a foreword to the pamphlet which sets forth the purpose of the survey, Mrs. Whitehurst states: "It is difficult to work for the promotion of women unless you are familiar with the discriminatory laws in each state."

"To ascertain the changes made in our various states since the last survey was made in 1934, we are submitting the attached questionnaire."

"We suggest that the new chairmen of the committee for the Promotion of Women in the new Americanism department be used for this purpose. If one has not been appointed, we suggest that this be done, as such a survey is a "full-time responsibility. If there are reasons why no additional committees can be appointed at this time, then it is suggested that the Americanism or American Citizenship chairman assume this responsibility."

Some of the searching questions to which the women will find the answers are:

Does a woman have the same privilege as a man in making contracts, in purchasing, owning, selling and mortgaging real and personal property?

Are guardianship rights the same for men and women?

Have the women the right to will money as they see fit?

Are there any restrictions against professional women, due to their sex?

May a woman, who practices law, be admitted to the State Bar Association?

What discriminatory laws do you have relative to the employment of women?

Are you satisfied with your non-support laws? If not, why?

Are your state laws the same for women, as men, in relation to old age assistance, etc.?

Are qualified women recognized, on the same basis as men, in local and state governmental appointments?

Are women permitted to serve on juries?

Does the state require a physical or mental test for persons applying for a marriage license? If so, are there different requirements for men and women?

Are the marriage and divorce laws the same for men and women? If not, give the exceptions.

Plan Drive to Prevent Fires

Fire Prevention Week will be observed in Gladstone as in the rest of the nation beginning Sunday and continuing through Saturday, Oct. 5-11.

Posters on the theme "Be Free From Fear of Fire" have been placed in many downtown business houses by local firemen.

Fire Chief Carl Johnson said that inspection of basements of business buildings on Delta avenue would be made during the week. However, fire drills in the schools are not planned.

Statistics contained in the 1951 annual fire loss report in Michigan compiled by the Fire Marshal Division reveal that in 1951 there were 50,670 fires with a total property loss of $16,681,148.90 and life loss of 221.

Dwelling fires numbered over 16,000 and automobile fires more than 7,000. There were 343 fires of incendiary nature with minors starting the major part of them, some 193.

Carelessness caused a big number of blazes with smoking topping the list with 3,511, burning of rubbish accounting for 2,046 and careless use of matches 551. Buildings ignited by bonfires totaled 829.

Overheated heating devices caused 1,723 fires and defective chimneys 1,626. Juveniles caused 1,303 fires other than by malicious act, lightning 585 and there were 12,022 grass fires.

Yo. 'da Wins Solid Backing In Japanese Election; Reds Flop

TOKYO (AP)—Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida got solid backing as 25 of his supporters, including three cabinet ministers, won Diet (parliament) seats in Japan's first completely free election since World War II.

Yoshida's Liberal Party captured 55 of 80 seats decided in early returns. Of the Liberal Party victors, 16 support Ichiro Hatoyama, former leader of the party who is waging a hot battle to regain control.

The Communists have failed to win a seat. Left wing socialists have taken six. Others were scattered.

Hobbyist Builds Model Flying Saucers

BINGHAMTON, N. Y. (AP)—While most people are just talking about flying saucers, Vincent Georgeff is building 'em—at least in model form.

Whether there are any flying saucers at present Georgeff doesn't know but he says he believes they are possible.

Beaten Up Kalamazoo Player Recovering; May Be Questioned

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP)—Police said that within a day or two they may be able to question 19-year-old Arnold Klump about his college dormitory beating.

The Kalamazoo College freshman football player was reported improving at Bronson hospital.

Unconscious for most of the nearly three weeks since his injuries, Klump has been of no aid to an investigation of the mystery.

Brain injuries caused partial paralysis of the youth's left side. He now is reported to have regained consciousness.

Klump, an athlete from Blissfield, was set upon by a brutal assailant the night of Sept. 10 or early Sept. 11, police believe. They have described the incident as a "murderous assault."

Chief of Detectives Riley Stewart said he hoped Klump might be questioned Wednesday or Thursday.

Meantime, state police resumed their mass lie detector tests of the 70 persons on the college campus on the date of the attack.

Manistique Ski Club Reactivated

Reactivation of the Manistique Ski club became a reality as a result of a meeting of interested parties at the city hall Tuesday evening.

Earl Cowman was elected president of the club, H. Schwartzstrom, vice president, W. Gretz, secretary-treasurer and the following trustees, Art Allen, three years; Henry Powers, two years and William Brockman, one year. T. H. Reque, of the Manistique Recreation board presided at the meeting.

The club, under its new status, is considering a number of far reaching activities and steps will be promptly taken to bring them about.

Chief among the plans are the erection of a senior ski slide. This will be erected along old highway U. S. 2, but at a different spot than the former one that was located along the same road. Need for such a slide was emphasized at the meeting. Many of the younger ski riders have outgrown the present slide facilities in the city and are in need of one where they can take longer jumps. It was also stated that the community would give liberal support to tournaments which were very popular a few years ago.

Active sponsorship of the Arrowhead Ski Club, the local junior ski organization, was assured by those present.

The ski slide near town and the ski tow will be reconditioned and it was decided that the tow will be operated without charge this year.

Reactivation of the club was made necessary because a number of officers and board members have either resigned or moved away from the city.

First white man to reside in America was Juan Ortiz, of Seville, who lived in Alabama from 1520 to 1539.

Picked Quart of Raspberries Here Wednesday A. M.

The raspberry season is still on in Manistique.

Of course that is only in a restricted sense. But Mrs. Mary Lafreniere, 624 Arbutus avenue, has been picking ripe, luscious berries from her patch every day for quite some time and declares that the full quart she picked Wednesday is of better quality than those she picked last July.

Mrs. Lafreniere has been picking berries practically ever since the season started and the little patch has yielded a quart every day the past week. From present indications she hopes to continue picking until the killing frosts come as

The neatest football play we've seen this season failed to work. The Escanaba Eskymos pulled it just before halftime against Menominee. Up to that point in the game the Eskymos had handled the ball on 27 consecutive running plays, including two series that produced touchdowns. But on the 28th time they handled the ball offensively the Eskymos executed a beautifully deceptive pass play. Quarterback Fred Boddy had the entire Menominee team fooled when he handed off to Charlie Bellefeuille who flipped a pass to end Tom Gregoire who was out in the clear behind the Maroon secondary. But he pass was a shade out of reach and Escanaba was forced to punt on the next play. The half ended as the Maroons returned the kick to midfield.

Out-of-state grid teams found U. P. competition rough over the past weekend. Friday night St. Joe of Escanaba, Ironwood and Sault Ste. Marie handed outstate foes gridiron defeats.

Munising is the only Upper Peninsula high school football team that hasn't scored a touchdown yet this season. The Mustangs have lost three straight by shutouts. Calumet has scored only once to date, the lone TD coming while losing to Bessemer 19-6 last weekend.

When Ironwood defeated the Hurley Midgets 26-13 Friday night it was the first win for the Red Devils in the heated inter-city series since 1947. Fullback Pat Cvangros led the Red Devils to over 300 yards rushing in the game.

When the Green Bay Packers take on the Washington Redskins this weekend it will be the first league meeting between the Pack and a Curly Lambeau-coached team. But the Packers will be looking for their fourth victory over his clubs. The Bays beat Lambeau's Cardinals by identical 17-14 scores in non-conference games in 1950-51. And in Kansas City last Sept. 14, shortly after Lambeau took the Redskins reins, the Packers scored a 13-7 victory.

Wakefield apparently has one of the strongest Class C teams in the Upper Peninsula. To date Coach Roman Yatchak's undefeated Cardinals have scored four straight victories over Hurley 27-0, Baraga 37-0, Houghton 21-6 and Ontonagon 21-0.

Iron Mountain may be represented this year in the annual Upper Peninsula Golden Gloves boxing tournament. A meeting has been called there this week to make plans for training. Ray Mariucci is in charge. Last year Iron Mountain didn't have a boxer in the tournament.

Billy Wells of Menominee was the leading ground gainer as Michigan State beat the University of Michigan gridriders last week. The Menominee Meteor rambled 84 yards on 11 carries. Incidentally, Jim Ripley of the Menominee Herald-Leader says the Menominee movie camera which records all Maroon games was not operating when Wayne Ewald threw that all-important pass to Loren Wall just as the game ended. The camera ran out of film with 30 seconds left in the game.

John Pierop of Spalding, who was a double winner in the recent stock car racing program at State Fair Park here, won the final stock car race of the season at Ishpeming this week. At the Soo Speedway, Joseph A. Morelli of Sault Ste. Marie was killed in a stock car accident when his safety belt broke and he was thrown from the car which rolled over him.

Here's an oddity: There were six high school football games played in the Upper Peninsula Friday night and the home team won in each game. But the first two weekends of the season, visiting teams won nine, home teams won three and one game ended in a tie.

Lions Need Win Over Rams Friday Night

LOS ANGELES (AP)—"This is one we have to win," says Coach Buddy Parker.

Of course Parker is talking about the Friday night battle his Detroit Lions have scheduled with the defending champion Los Angeles Rams of the National Football League.

Buddy's club might lose this one and still have a chance at the NFL western division title. But the chance would be slim, what with a 0-2 record.

Actually, the Lions are a slight favorite to beat the Rams, a question-mark team jolted first by dissonance and then by a switch in coaches.

The Rams have lost four straight games, including three exhibition tilts. That provoked the partially-voluntary departure of Joe Stydahar and the installation of J. Hampton Pool as head coach within the last 48 hours.

The change can work two ways. If the Rams are as badly disorganized as Pool says they are, the Lions should win. But if the team was relieved by the removal of Stydahar, a morale uplift could make the Rams as dangerous as they were last year.

Parker is still disappointed at his Lions' opener 17-3 loss to San Francisco Sunday. On the same time the Cleveland Browns battered the Rams.

Regarding his own club's western trip, Parker says, "If we win this one, I'll figure this was a good trip. You can't count on winning more than one game out here on the coast against these two clubs."

BROOKLYN (AP)—Even the Russians could find little to criticize in our "beizbol" as played in the 1952 World Series.

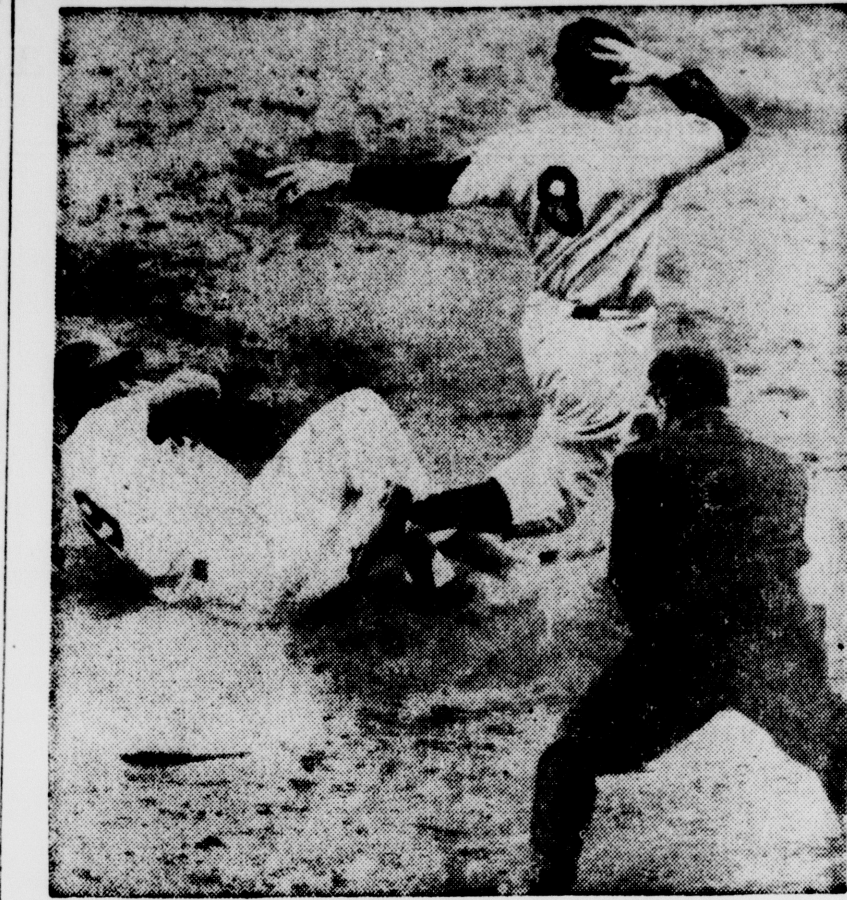

Commissioner Ford Frick's "no-rhubarb" order has made perfect gentlemen of the antagonists. No profanity. No beefs. No tantrums. You could almost hear Mickey Mantle say "excuse me" when he lashed into the Dodgers' Pee Wee Reese at second in the fourth inning of yesterday's opening game. Reese, severely bruised, didn't emit a gripe.

Brooklyn catcher Roy Campanella thought he was safe when called out stealing second in the second inning. He started to protest, then turned sharply and went back to the bench.

The Brooklyn Eagle's late afternoon edition carried the bold front page headline: "EXPERTS, DROP DEAD." Then below: "Dodgers win series opener, 4-2." The Yankees were 5-6 favorites in the first game.

Connie Mack, Philadelphia's octogenarian, watched the first game from the third base box seats, and he said he still likes the Yankees.

Mountaineer Field, home of West Virginia University football, was built in 1924 and formally dedicated the next year.

Howell Will Make Trip With Wolverine Squad

By JOHN F. MAYHEW

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Injured wingback Frank Howell, yard-crunching ace of the Michigan backfield, will be in the stadium when Michigan invades Stanford Saturday—that much has been decided.

Maybe he'll play. Maybe he won't. If you're watching the nationally-televised game, you may see an 18-year-old speedster fresh out of Flint, Mich., Central High School playing much of the time at Howell's key wingback spot. His name: Tony Branoff.

In fact, Branoff could be there almost all of the time. Coach Bennie Oosterbaan said he didn't know whether Howell was sufficiently recovered from his knee injury to play. But he decided yesterday to take Howell along to the coast.

All-State

Branoff is a heralded 180-pound second semester freshman who gained a place on the Associated Press all-state high school team last fall. Last week in the opener against Michigan State he appeared only briefly on the offense and gained a few yards in his one carry.

Oosterbaan decided to include Howell in his 40-man traveling squad after team physicians said the right halfback's knee injury might be healed enough by game time to play.

"The Michigan coach feels much depends on Michigan's ability to come back from the 27-13 opening loss to Michigan State, No. 1 team in Associated Press national poll. Howell's possible loss dampened Michigan hopes somewhat. But aside from Howell, the squad was in good physical shape.

FRANK HOWELL
Michigan Halfback

Except for Howell, Oosterbaan planned the same offensive unit that established a 13-0 lead over Michigan State before giving way.

Topor At Quarterback

The veteran Ted Topor will quarterback the team with junior Ted Kress making his second appearance in the tailback slot, and

Lowell Perry, star Wolverine pass receiver, and Tad Stanford will flank the line, with Jim Bolog and Dick Strozewski at the tackles. Dick Beison and Bob Timm at the guards, and Dick O'Shaughnessy at center.

Chief concern is with the passing of Stanford's T-formation quarterback, Bob Garrett. After exposing a vulnerable pass defense in the opener, Michigan will have to be improved considerably to smother the aerial offerings of Garrett, who is hailed as a twin of Gary Kerkorian, the Stanford quarterback who riddled Michigan 23-13 last year.

For running strength the west coasters place chief reliance on Bob Mathias, the Olympic decathlon champion—turned football player.

Passing Ace

Fullback Mathias packs a tremendous straightaway power and a speed to capitalize with long runs.

The Stanford squad, reportedly at a peak for the game Saturday, has two contests under its belt. Garrett tossed two touchdown strikes last Saturday as the Indians downed Washington State 14-13.

The week before, he completed half of his 18 passes in a 28-14 victory over Santa Clara.

Oosterbaan's squad wound up its practice drill here yesterday and boarded a plane at 9:50 a. m. today for San Francisco.

Brief sessions were planned today and Friday in preparation for the fifth game in a series in which the Wolverines have won three.

and Everett Sweeley, an end, fullback and punter extraordinary in 1901.

Kingsford Will Field Veteran Team Against Eskys Here Saturday

A potentially dangerous Kingsford Flivver grid team will be primed for its biggest effort of the season when it tangles with the Escanaba Eskymos here Saturday afternoon. Opening kickoff is at 2.

The Flivvers were drilled last year by Joe Milokna, current Eskymo mentor, and would like nothing better than to hand a loss to his new team.

And in spite of a record of only one win in four starts, Kingsford has the guns to make it tough Saturday.

Bob Mathias Is Gridiron Threat

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP)—Bob Mathias, Stanford's wide driving fullback, may show football fans in general and Michigan's team in particular his increasing versatility in the intersectional game here Saturday.

The contest will be televised nationally NBC 4:45 p. m. EST and played before a crowd upward of 50,000.

The two-time Olympic decathlon champion is being groomed to handle almost as many gridiron chores as the ten field and track events in the decathlon.

Booming Bob was a fast, hard runner last year in his first season of college ball. His long runs helped lead Stanford to the Pacific Coast Conference title and the New Year's Day Rose Bowl and losing contest.

In two winning games this season, 208-pound Mathias has emerged as a runner, pass catcher, and kickoff specialist. He also plays a safety position. Before long, possibly against Michigan, the 21-year-old star may blossom out as a pass thrower and punter. He has been trying his hand and foot in those two departments.

Coach Chuck Taylor knows he has a prize specimen to experiment with and he intends to make the most of the opportunity.

Eskymo Jayvees To Meet Kingsford At Noon On Saturday

The Escanaba Junior Varsity grid team makes its second start of the season Saturday at noon against the Kingsford Flivvers reserves at Escanaba Athletic Field.

The Esky Jayvees lost 26-0 to Menominee in its debut last Saturday.

Comeback Win For Willie Pep

CHICAGO (AP)—Willie Pep, the former brilliant feathery eight champion, may not be the fighter he once was but he's still a poised and efficient workman.

The wily Pep, obviously far removed from the form that gained him one of the greatest records in boxing history, had enough of his old class to pound out a unanimous 10-round decision over rugged Armand Savio last night at Chicago Stadium.

Savio, Canada's lightweight and welterweight champion and a rough swinger, probably summed up the fight as well as anyone. Congratulating Pep after the fight, he said:

"Willie, I guess you were just a little too smart for me."

Savio outweighed Pep 134 to 129½ and hurt Willie occasionally with lunging swings, one of which gashed the former champion's right eyebrow in the fourth round. The Canadian reopened the wound several times thereafter but Pep piled up a preponderance of points with a series of brief combination flurries.

The victory was the sixth in a comeback string compiled by Willie since his June 30 knockout by Tommy Collins. Pep has been beaten only five times in 174 pro bouts since 1940.

Savio has lost only eight of 46 bouts.

The match was televised nationally and drew 2,054 patrons who paid $3,890.

urday, New coach Paul Goodreau, who was Milokna's assistant at Kingsford, has nine veteran lettermen in his starting lineup.

In addition to his starters, Goodreau has a half a dozen capable reserves who saw considerable action under Milokna's direction last season.

Big Fullback

The chief threat in the Flivver backfield this season is George Rousseau, fullback. Rousseau, a senior, was the mainstay in Kingsford's rugged defensive line last season. Field general for the Flivvers is Gene Turk, capable quarterback signal-caller who has had two years of varsity competition.

Billy Schultz and Bob Johnson are starting halfbacks, both lettermen.

Mainstay in the line is Jack Payant, big center who has been on the Flivver varsity for three years. At ends are Nick Massie and Tom Ehlers, at tackles are Wayne Hill and Terry Ryan and at guards are Bob Langford and Fred Spanton.

Reserve backs sure to see action are Hal Wepsala, Louis Welden, Art Vieni and Francis Wender. Dick Gussert is a front line reserve. Paul Treado handles Kingsford's punting chores.

The Flivvers, unable to hold pre-season practice because of the polio epidemic, opened the season with a shaky 8-0 win over Niagara and took a 51-0 drubbing from Menominee before settling down. In their last two starts the Flivvers have looked better while losing to Stephenson 32-14 and Iron River 40-13. Both Menominee and Iron River are undefeated this season and Stephenson fields one of the biggest grid teams in the Upper Peninsula.

Sharp Practice

The Eskymos, heartened by their stirring stand against the powerful Menominee Maroons last weekend, are at a peak physically and mentally for the Kingsford game.

The Esky practice session yesterday was sharp and effective as the front liners scrimmaged against a second team which ran through Kingsford's offensive maneuvers. Linebacker Paul Davidson stood out on defense and offensively the Esky passing attack featured Charlie Bellefeuille pitching payoff strikes to end Bill Peltier.

Only a few bumps and bruises are sported by the Eskymos. Left end Tom Gregoire skipped heavy practice because of a muscle strain.

The Eskymos will hold their weekly night practice session under Memorial Field lights tonight. Final practice is slated for tomorrow morning.

Rose Bowl Trip Not Yet Out For Michigan Team

By JOHN F. MAYHEW

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Seldom has a defeat bred such encouragement as Michigan found in its 27-13 loss to Michigan State in the season-opening football game here last Saturday.

Out of that loss, many have seen signs of a good showing in the Western Conference campaign and a possibility of representing the Big Ten in the Rose Bowl next New Year's Day.

The hopes and possibilities stem from the manner in which the Wolverines went down.

Offensive Spark

Coach Bennie Oosterbaan's crew showed a burst of offensive power that many think came close to defeating the Spartans, deservedly ranked number one in the nation. The Wolverines showed an offense totally lacking a year ago, and a stout defense against all but aerial warfare. The shortcoming, it is felt, can be remedied.

The Wolverines made a far better showing than was expected. And on the grounds that Michigan demonstrated more improvement over last year than possibly any team in the league, the idea of conference honors and Rose Bowl naturally pop up.

Stanford Key Game

Psychologically, the game Saturday with Stanford is regarded as a key game. Because the Michigan team was "so high" for the Spartans, a let-down is expectable. However, if the Wolverines can get by Stanford without suffering a psychological blow, they should gain some momentum for the opening of the Big Ten season here Oct. 11 against Indiana.

The Michigan squad will show special interest in the Illinois-Wisconsin class Saturday. They'll be pulling for Illinois, ineligible for Rose Bowl participation this year, to whip the Badgers. For that would enable Michigan to tie Wisconsin by beating Illinois, assuming each team wins its other conference games.

It's easier on paper than it is on the gridiron, where such imponderables as emotion, spirit and injury play such a vast part. But at least on paper, Michigan stands as good a chance as anyone for the Rose Bowl honors.

Coach Tom St. Germain's Parochials travel to Norway where they take on the Vikings of Coach Alan Norberg in a game starting at 3 p. m. (Escanaba time).

St. Joe will be looking for its third straight grid victory after dropping its first two starts to Gladstone and Stambaugh. The wins have come over Bark River and St. Norbert of De Pere, Wis.

Joe Black is Pitching Star in 4-2 Victory

Sharp Dodgers Cop Opener

By GAYLE TALBOT

BROOKLYN (AP)—Know what?—the Dodgers could win this World Series and make a lot of experts look very bad.

It was a smart, loose team which outslugged the Yankees, 4-2, in yesterday's opener, extremely skilled on defense and a picture of confidence in its every move.

Joe Black, the big Negro rookie proved himself a very fine pitcher as he throttled the American Leaguers in the tight spots, and he is due to be back for several more helpings before it is over.

This was the first opener the Dodgers ever have won in six World Series.

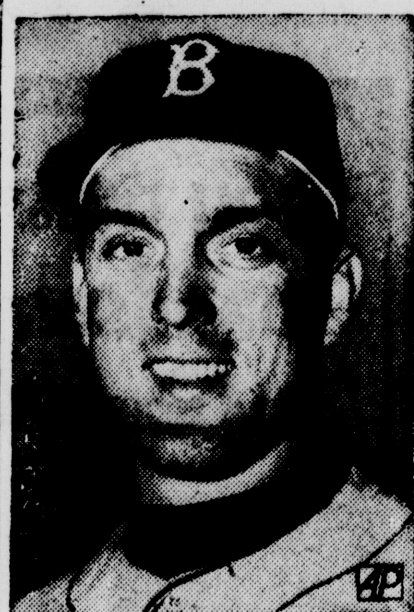

Mows 'Em Down

Dressen's all-or-nothing gamble of starting his freshman reliever didn't really look like a gamble at all as Black mowed the Yankees down in the first inning. The big fellow appeared to get faster as he went along. No harder ball was thrown all day than the strike which Irv Noren looked at to end the ball game.

As they went into the second game today behind Carl Erskine, their small-size righthander, the National Leaguers had every reason to feel their oats. Having disposed of Allie Reynolds with three well-hit home runs, they had no particular reason for fearing Vic Raschi, the Yankees' second-best.

Black probably will be given a day's rest, but he will be back ready for relief duty in tomorrow's third game at Yankee Stadium.

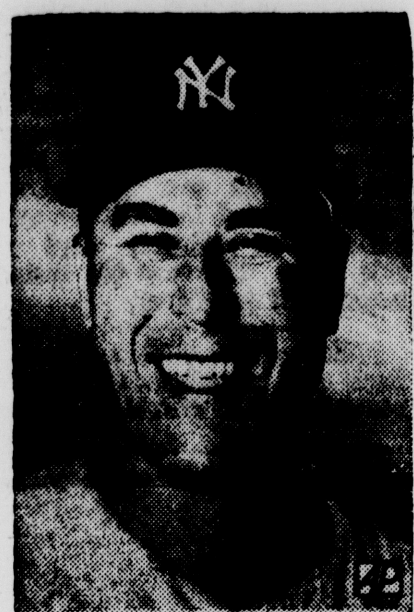

Black's pitching was, of course, the standout performance of the opener, but not by too much.

CARL ERSKINE

Andy Pafko, the Dodger left fielder, turned in two tremendous plays to choke off a Yankee threat in the fifth inning. First he made a remarkable peg to third to cut down Gil McDougald after Billy Martin had singled. Then, pausing only to catch his breath, he came in a mile to make a somersaulting catch of a drooper by Hank Bauer.

Billy Cox, widely acknowledged to be the finest fielding third-baseman in the game today, made a brilliant stop and throw in the seventh on McDougald's slashing grounder to start a double play which stopped the Stengeleers in their tracks. To complete the inning, he backhanded Martin's hopper over third and threw him out.

VIC RASCHI

In other words, the Dodgers did everything they were supposed to do. They hit the long ball, they fielded spectacularly, and they had a man named Black.

Hard Hit Homer The day's hardest hit ball probably was the homer slugged by Peevée Reese in the eighth, which only ensured the victory after Duke Snider's towering two-run smash over the clock in right field had sent the Dodgers into the lead at 3-1.

Yogi Berra did not acquit himself with any honors to speak of. The Yankee catcher got the ball out of the infield only once in four tries, and twice he forced teammates at second when a hit might have broken the game wide open.

His opposite number, Roy Campanella, didn't do too well, either. Although Mickey Mantle struck out in his final time at bat when the Yanks were desperate for a hit, the "phenom" from Oklahoma gave warning that he must be dealt with by collecting two of his team's six hits, one of them on a bunt. The fleet kid also raced to make a catch on Reese in the fourth inning which would have done full credit to Joe DiMaggio.

QUESTION: Can a batter, starting toward the bench or his position after a third strike, suddenly run to first base upon realizing the catcher dropped the ball and that no play has been made on him?

Joe Braun

Answer: President Warren Giles issued a bulletin clarifying the rule in the National League. It reads:

"When, under the rules, a batsman becomes a base runner on a third strike not caught by the catcher, and he starts toward his dugout or position, with no play made on him, he shall not be called out for running out of the base line, if he attempts to reach first base at once. If he fails to start for first base at once, he is out on appeal when he or first base is tagged."

At once, as used herein, shall mean before the player actually reaches the bench or his position, and in all cases before the pitcher takes his next pitching position.

Bill Jackowski, newest National League umpire, was in charge of the athletic program at Fort Devens, Mass., for a short time during World War II.

NEW YORK (AP)—Picking football winners while ducking World Series bunts and bats. Last week's average—37 correct, 11 incorrect for .771. Season's average: 63 correct, 18 incorrect for .778.

Michigan State over Oregon State: this was the Spartans' hardest battle last year and they squeaked through with a 6 to 0 verdict, it should be considerably easier this time.

Wisconsin over Illinois: it is as simple as this—Wisconsin wants to go to the Rose Bowl and Illinois knows it can't. The Illini won last year and since 1932 neither has been able to win twice in a row in this bitter struggle. Amache to star.

Maryland over Clemson: neither club is in the good graces of the suddenly prim Southern Conference so this game has been dubbed the "Suspension Bowl." Jack Scarbath of Maryland to outshine Clemson's Buck George.

Georgia Tech over Southern Methodist: those wild Mustangs from Texas aren't so wild this year.

Southern California over Army: the Trojans scored 31 points against Northwestern last week and displeased Coach Jess Hill. So woe to the poor Cadets.

Duke over Tennessee: Jack Kistler of Duke has gained 225 yards in 27 tries. That's the fourth best total in the entire nation. Cornell over Navy: Coach Lefty James says he has discovered what caused the Big Red team's defeat by Colgate last Saturday. His team is the pick in the belief that he also found a remedy.

Texas over Notre Dame: who can remember when a good Texas team ever was roped and tied in its own backyard? But the Longhorns had better keep John Latner under close watch.

Michigan over Stanford: The Big Ten club seems the more solid but it will have to be solid if it expects to keep Bob Mathias in check. It is the day's TV offering.

Holy Cross over Fordham: Holy Cross gets the nod with Fordham's captain, John Hyatt, out with polio.

Ohio State over Purdue: too close for comfort.

Oklahoma over Pittsburgh: Billy Vessels to move that ball for the Sooners.

Pennsylvania over Dartmouth: The Penns outman their Ivy League brethren.

Skipping over the others in a hurry: Friday night: Alabama over Miami, Syracuse over Temple.

Saturday: East: Albright over Lafayette, Wake Forest over Boston College.

Sensational Joe Black Is New In Baseball Big Time

By FRANK ECK

BROOKLYN (AP)—Two years ago today Joe Black was travelling by bus and pitching for the Baltimore Elite Giants in the Negro National League.

A year ago today he was getting ready to pitch the Oct. 4 opening game for Manager Billy Herman's Cienfuegos team in the Havana Winter League.

Today Black stands on the threshold of World Series greatness.

The 28-year-old rookie, who won 15 games and saved 14 others with his relief pitching for the Brooklyn Dodgers, beat the Yankees' ace, Allie Reynolds, 4-2, yesterday.

"He'll see a lot of this series," Manager Charley Dressen said.

Black, when asked why he had shaken off several of catcher Roy Campanella's signs, replied:

"We both shake our heads once in a while but I never shake him off. He knows the hitters better than I do. I just throw to him."

The Dodgers got Black on a "look basis" from the Baltimore

Elites in December, 1950. They paid $11,000 for him and two other players.

Dressen lashed back at critics who said he was gambling by starting his brilliant fireman against Reynolds, who has won a World Series game for the Yankees in each of their last four classics.

"I guess that will hold them," said Dressen. "Black was my soundest pitcher and deserved the chance. Reynolds was their best pitcher. Casey Stengel says that by the way he talks."

Surrender Letter Of Napoleon III Found

BOLOGNA, Italy (AP)—The document for which France has been looking for the past 80 years has been discovered in the archives of a count here.

The document is the signed letter with which Napoleon III, last emperor of France, surrendered at Sedan to Wilhelm I of Germany. The document disappeared from the German court between 1872 and 1875.

The letter says: "Mister my brother, as I was unable to die in the midst of my troops, I have only to hand my sword in the

Partridge Flies Through Window

Mrs. Gale Wescott was outside their new home on South Tenth St., Wednesday afternoon when she heard a crash of glass and investigating found a large hole in one of the door windows and glass littering the floor inside.

No missile was in sight but she finally discovered a partridge sitting atop a rafter in the garage. Finally it took off and flew inside the garage and finally headed for another of the windows which she stood in front of to protect.

The bird flew into the door and this time dropped with a broken neck.

To announce to the people that their bread was finished and ready for sale, 14th century bakers blew horns.

Hostels Open Europe To Youth

By ALFRED B. CONNABLE III

AP Newsfeatures
ROME—Want to see Europe on a shoestring?

By living in youth hostels thousands of young tourists from all parts of the world made the trip this summer. Most are enthusiastic.

The hostels, which cost about 25 cents a night, are sponsored by national affiliates of the International Hostel Federation, with one million members. Europe alone has 6,000 hostels—clean, simple places for young travelers to live. Most chores are done by the guests.

"It isn't the Waldorf but for your money's worth there is nothing to beat it for a good night's rest and a chance to talk with young people from all over the world," said Lee Mishkin of New York City, a recent University of California at Los Angeles graduate.

Mishkin and his bride, Rene, are spending their honeymoon on a hosteling trip.

"As newlyweds it would be nice to have a little more privacy but it's a grand trip," said Mrs. Mishkin when the two were interviewed at Rome's big hostel.

The youthful travelers cross Europe by bicycle, hitch-hiking or by third-class train. In Italy, Germans are the most frequent visitors to the 38 hostels with English, Americans and Australians also frequent visitors.

The chief complaints are that quarters are cramped due to the popularity of the hostels.

"There is always trouble finding a bed," reported Miss Marjory Britton of Stockton, England. "But if you get up early your second day in town chances are good for that night."

Many English tourists use hostels because they cannot take more than $75 in foreign currency out of the country.

"But we're probably better off this way," said Dorreen Waisell of Bishop Auckland, England.

Fire Precautions Offered By Rural Prevention Group

EAST LANSING—Carelessness is the chief cause of farm fires, according to the National Fire Protection Association and the Michigan Rural Fire Prevention Committee.

During national Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 5 through 11, the committee, working with Michigan State College Agricultural Extension Service, will stress elimination of fire hazards on farms. In addition to emphasis this coming week, the committee hopes to build farmer interest in fire prevention the year around.

These five precautions against fire losses are offered by David G. Steinicke, MSC extension specialist in safety, and committee member:

1. Don't overload wires. When adding electrical devices such as motors or corn driers, get an expert to determine whether new circuits are needed.
2. Prohibit smoking in the barn or where flammable liquids are stored.
3. Remember that gasoline can be dangerous if not properly stored.
4. Have proper lightning rods installed on major farm buildings, with wires to ground them, and have them inspected yearly.
5. Make a careful inspection of

New Drugs Given Too Much Credit

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Reporter

WASHINGTON (AP)—Doctors should be wary of appraising the powers of the wonder-drugs in the way grandma measured the success of onion poultices, a Washington physician says.

Declaring that medical practitioners are all too prone to credit a wonder-drug like penicillin with the cure when a patient treated with such a drug for a poorly defined ailment—especially of the nose and throat—gets well, Dr. John A. Washington told the annual Scientific assembly of the District of Columbia Medical Society.

"Like grandmothers with onion poultices we credit our success to the medicine in use at the time the temperature drops," The George Washington University pediatrician said that while the antibiotic wonder-drugs are valuable foes of certain specific infections, there are others against which the drugs have no power at all—and that some of these ailments are subject to spontaneous recovery.

He made the remarks in cautioning heating equipment and see that chimneys are in good repair for the winter months.

Following these precautions will help avoid costly fires on Michigan farms—fires which take a big toll yearly and 90 percent of which could be prevented, according to officials.

ing doctors against "unnecessary" use of the antibiotics lest they: (1) Needlessly expose a patient to the risk of some kind of a reaction from the drug; (2) subject a family to unnecessary expense for the drugs; (3) cause mothers to waken needlessly at all hours of the night to give the drug to a sick child; and (4) build up fears in a child of a "needle-wielding doctor."

Nurs Lead Fight On Drug Addiction

WASSENBERG, Germany (AP)—A quiet, small hospital run by Catholic nuns in the remote forests of Northwest Germany is one of the main centers in the fight against drug addiction.

The hospital is the only asylum for women drug and alcohol addicts in Germany. Twelve hundred women and girls have been under treatment here during the last few years.

West German health officials are full of praise for the asylum and its management. "With some 50,000 drug addicts and three times as many alcoholics running loose in West Germany the little nuns of Wassenberg have done everything they could to help us fight the dope wave," one official pointed out.

Alcoholism and drug addiction have increased greatly in West Germany in recent years. A large proportion of all alcohol and drug addicts are youths and women.

Few Michigan Fires Costly During 1951

LANSING (AP)—Michigan had fewer fires in 1951, but they were more costly, the state fire marshal reported today.

The marshal, State Police Commissioner Joseph M. Childs, said increased values caused the fire loss to hit a new high, $29,760,609, an increase of about $150,000 over the preceding peak, set in 1948. The 1950 loss was $24,964,345. Childs reported that 221 persons, including 81 children, died in 1951 fires. This was the second largest toll in history.
